TURKS WILL STOP TROOP ACTIVITY IN NEUTRAL ZONE

Assurances Given in Writing at Mudania After Irregulars Appear in Constantinople Suburbs and Other Detachments Move Toward Chanak.

ALLIED GENERALS AND GREEKS CONFER

Conference Interrupted by Nationalists' Refusal to Specify Number of Gen-darmes to Be Used in Thrace.

By the Associated Press.
MUDANIA, Oct. 9.—The allied generals here for attendance upon the armistice conference spent this morning in conference with the Greek delegates. The conference with Ismet Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist representative, is scheduled to be resumed at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The delegates met informally last night, postponing formal discussions until this afternoon.

Gen. Harington, the British commander-in-chief, received in writing an assurance from Ismet Pasha that there would be no further advance of the Nationalist troops in the neutral zone.

By the Associated Press.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 9.—The Turkish Nationalist troops yesterday resumed their advance in the Dardanelles area in the direction of Chanak, the British stronghold, according to a Mudania dispatch to the local newspapers.

It was reported during the night that Turkish irregulars had appeared yesterday afternoon for a short distance from Belkos in the hills on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus. Belkos is a suburb of Constantinople, eight miles above the American naval anchorage. The British are entrenching around Belkos.

The Turkish irregulars and small bands of guerrillas and bandits which frequently form the advance guard of a Turkish army have appeared in small villages east of Constantinople. These villages include Tashkies, Tashkies, Omurli, Agfa and Ar-mudli, all within the suburban limits of Constantinople on the Asiatic side.

British Blow Up Bridges.
The British yesterday made final preparations for defense, blowing up bridges and cross roads.

A British destroyer anchored Sunday at Shileh on the Black Sea coast. The commander went ashore, met the Nationalist officer there and requested him to withdraw his forces. The Turk replied that he has orders to remain, whereupon the British commander declared he also would remain and kept to his anchorage close in shore.

The allies presented a united front on their return to Mudania at 10 o'clock last night and the feeling of all three delegations was that Ismet Pasha would be forced to yield.

The delegations expressed optimism regarding the outcome, contending there was little doubt that the Turks would accept the allied demands, leaving the question of the limitations of the Turkish gendarmes only as a possibility of friction.

Two of the three members of each of the allied delegations returned to Constantinople last evening. Gen. Harington, Col. Vitelli and Col. Chaswell remained at Mudania. In explanation of their return one of the delegates informed the Associated Press: "We have returned to consult with the High Commissioners because the final Paris instructions have not yet reached Mudania. We shall return tonight."

Turks Refuse to Specify.
At yesterday's conference the Turks refused to specify the number of gendarmes they desired to send to Thrace. The British delegation had instructions to insist on limitation of the number permitted.

In the course of the afternoon session Ismet Pasha that the Turks withdraw their forces from the neutral zone.

MAGELLANIC CLOUD FOUND TO BE SORT OF SMALL UNIVERSE

Hundreds of Stars in Group 10,000 Times Brighter Than the Sun.

By the Associated Press.
CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 9.—The large Magellanic cloud, a group of stars and nebulae visible from the Southern Hemisphere, which is believed to be a sort of small universe in itself, proves to be of staggering dimensions, it was announced from the Harvard College observatory yesterday. The first measurements of the distance and the size of the cloud have established that it is 110,000 light years from the earth and that its linear diameter is about 15,000 light years. A light year is 6,000,000,000,000 miles.

The large Magellanic cloud, which resembles in appearance the milky way, is separated from that system of stars of which our solar system is a small part. Photometric measures of the Magellanic star indicate that many are actually far brighter than any yet found in our solar system. Hundreds of these stars, it is said, were found to exceed the brightness of the sun by 10,000 times.

46 GUARDSMEN ON STRIKE DUTY AT POPLAR BLUFF DEMOBILIZED

Only About 132 Will Remain—Troop Service Has Cost State $200,000 to $250,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9.—Brigadier-General Raupp, in command of the Missouri National Guard, tomorrow will order 46 men and officers of the 140th Infantry, on strike duty at Poplar Bluff, demobilized. This will leave only about 132 men and officers on duty at Poplar Bluff and 40 at New Franklin, of the more than 1200 called out last July.

The Missouri troop movement incident to the strike has cost between $200,000 and $250,000, but State authorities count the result worth the investment, as no strike disorder of consequence occurred in this State. Conditions at Moberly and New Franklin probably will mean retention of troops there for some time. No serious disorder has occurred there, but there are large numbers of shophimen idle.

REFUSES TO INTERPRET DECISION

Supreme Court Replies to Request Bearing on Shoe Machinery Case.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—By direction of the Supreme Court, William R. Stansbury, its clerk, today notified George H. Paine and three others who described themselves as "citizens of the United States" that the Court would not undertake to interpret its decision in the United Shoe Machinery case, rendered at the last term.

Paine and his associates asked for a modification of the decision with respect to certain forms of leases used by the corporation which the court held to be invalid. Their request for a new decision was denied in behalf of the "consuming public" and alleged that unless the opinion was given certain constructions by the court it would work a hardship upon shoe manufacturers who used the machines of the United Shoe Machinery Co. as well as upon the wearers of shoes made upon those machines.

FIRST PULLMAN IS EXHIBITED

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The first Pullman sleeping car was placed on exhibition today at the La Salle street passenger station. It was an old passenger coach remodeled by the late George M. Pullman and put into service between Chicago and Bloomington, Sept. 1, 1859. The car is a feature of the historical exhibit in connection with the seventieth anniversary of the Rock Island Railroad. The car provided four lower and four upper berths.

ICE WATER DEATH DECISION

By the Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 9.—Death of a workman caused by drinking ice water provided by his employer lays the employer liable under the Kansas workmen's compensation act, the Supreme Court held this opinion in a decision handed down Saturday, affirming a judgment obtained in the Montgomery County District Court against the Edgar Zinc Co. by the widow of the deceased employee, S. C. Gilliland. The award was $3276.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9.—Federal injunctions will be applied for to prevent proprietors of certain grocery stores and soft drink establishments from selling intoxicating liquors during the American Legion convention week, it is announced by United States District Attorney Louis H. Burns.

MAN ADMITS PART IN COUNTY HOLDUP IN COUNTY HOLDUP FATAL TO ROBBER

Robert Kleessen Tells of Attempted Robbery of Rose Inn and Flight After Shooting.

DEPUTY WOUNDED IN FIGHT RECOVERING

George J. Roth Killed One of Band Who Later Was Identified as Joseph Resnick, 19 Years Old.

Deputy Constable George J. Roth of St. Louis County is recovering at his home in Clayton from five wounds which were inflicted early yesterday by men who attempted to hold up the Rose Inn, on North and South roads. Roth killed one of the men, whose body was carried away by his comrades, and who was later found to have been Joseph Resnick, 19 years old, of 2818 Standard street, St. Louis, a parolee prisoner from the Booneville Reformatory.

Robert Kleessen of 1103A Sidney street, who was arrested in the city and turned over to the county authorities, has admitted that he was one of the robbers. Charles Silvers, 22, a photographer, of 1814 Carr street, who was wounded in the shoulder and who is a prisoner in the city hospital, denies that he took part in the robbery, though Kleessen says he did. A fourth man is being sought by the police and county authorities.

Previously Wounded.

Roth's wounds are in the right side of the neck, in the right shoulder and three flesh wounds on the abdomen. He was wounded slightly by a buckshot early in the morning of Aug. 11, while in pursuit of a speeding car which was later found to be carrying nitroglycerin and safes blowers' tools. The car was wrecked in Forest Park. Roth's policemen had taken up the chase, but its occupants escaped, and only a woman, who had been in their company, was caught.

Roth said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, after the shooting at Rose Inn, that he was in the barroom with two other county officers, when the robbers entered and gave a "hands-up" order.

"I drew my 38 and began firing," he said, "and one of the men fell. The other two officers were where they couldn't shoot at first, without hitting innocent persons. The robbers ran out and got in their car, and we pursued them on North and South roads, in my machine, about a mile, to Clayton road, where we ran them into the ditch and they scattered. There was more or less firing all the way, and I don't know just where all my wounds came in."

Resnick was sentenced to a four years' term in the Booneville Reformatory, July 20, 1920, on his plea of guilty to robbery. He held up David Solomon in his shoe store, 2021 Franklin avenue, May 30, 1920, and took $28 and a watch. He also admitted having held up a girl cashier. After serving nearly one year of his term, Resnick was freed on a parole, as he had accumulated 2700 merit marks for good conduct.

License Number Noted.
City detectives began a hunt for the robbers early Sunday after the license number of the Ford car, noted by a Deputy Sheriff, had been telephoned to them. The number showed that the car was owned by Delmar boulevard and the proprietor said he rented the car to a man recommended to him by a man who telephoned to him and who said he was Charles Silver.

Looking for Silver, policemen learned that he had been seen a short time before in a saloon at 2036 Carr street. They learned that Robert Kleessen had been with him there and Kleessen was arrested.

At the Wyoming Street Station, Kleessen said that he, Silver, Resnick and a fourth man, met Saturday night in a saloon at 2036 Carr street. They planned the robbery in the county. Resnick drove them out in the rented Ford, he told to Rose Inn, and all four got out.

Kleessen said he and Silver went into the bar, while Resnick and the fourth man entered the cabaret. Silver drew his revolver, he said, and ordered those in the bar to throw up their hands. Kleessen said he went behind the bar and had taken $5 when he heard shots, and saw Resnick fall.

Story of Flight.
Kleessen said he ran from behind the bar and that Silver handed him a revolver, telling him to keep the crowd back. Silver then carried out Resnick, he said, and the four fled in the machine, exchanging shots with pursuers. At a cross road, he did not regain consciousness.

'COUNTERFEIT' BILL PROVES TO BE GOOD ONE OF 1863 ISSUE

Bank, Skeptical of Paper, Had Sent It to Secret Service Bureau for Investigation.

Apparently it is a wise banker who knows a good $5 bill of the 1863 vintage. Today Stephen A. Connell, in charge of the local United States Secret Service Bureau, received a bill of the 1863 issue from a downtown bank, with the request that its character be designated. The bank was of the opinion that the bill was counterfeit.

Connell, however, who is more versed in the pedigree of Government notes than the banker, pronounced the bill good, although it might have had a look and a feel very different from the bills of 1922. The issue of $5 bills of 1863 was counterfeited shortly after the appearance of this currency. However, the work was reported crude, and little difficulty was experienced in detecting the spurious paper.

REHEARING OF CORONADO CASE DENIED BY SUPREME COURT

Further Consideration of Southern Pacific Railroad Order Also Refused.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A rehearing of the Coronado coal case was denied by the Supreme Court today. The Coronado Coal Co. asked for review of the part of the decision which held that the United Mine Workers' Union and certain individuals had not been guilty of restraint of interstate commerce.

The Supreme Court also denied a rehearing of the case brought by the United States in which it directed the Southern Pacific Co. to divest itself of ownership and control over the Central Pacific Railroad. The court also denied the petition of the Government for a rehearing of the cases in which the court at its last term defined the suitability and power of a Federal agency of the Emergency Fleet Corporation of the United States Shipping Board.

U. S. Charge d'Affaires Signs Book of Congratulations at Athens.

By the Associated Press.
ATHENS, Oct. 9.—Jefferson Caffery, the American Charge d'Affaires here, signed his name in the Book of Congratulations at the palace today. It was explained at the American Legation that this did not involve recognition of King George by the United States, but was a courtesy such as has been extended by all the legations.

CATERER FINED FOR BUYING DUCK

Arthur E. Koerner, Proprietor of the New York Catering Co., 408 Washington Avenue, Was Fined $10 and Costs by Federal Judge Dyer Today on a Plea of Guilty to the Charge of Having Bought a Mallard Duck Killed out of Season, thus Violating the Migratory Bird Act.

On Oct. 19, 1921, Koerner purchased the duck from LeRoy Good of Batchtown, Ill. Good was arrested by United States Game Warden Harry Barmeyer, who found him selling the ducks. The arrest of Koerner followed, when one of the fowl was found in his icebox. Because of the number of cases on the Federal docket, this charge was nearly a year in coming up for trial.

COMPENSATION ACT ORDERED PUT ON ELECTION BALLOT

State Supreme Court Affirms Lower Court's Decision in Workmen's Referendum Case.

ELECTION WILL DECIDE ITS FATE AS A LAW

Injunction to Prevent Such Action Had Been Sought by St. Louis Manufacturer and Others.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9.—The State Supreme Court, sitting en banc, today affirmed a decision of the Cole County Circuit Court, in the referendum on the workmen's compensation act, and ordered Secretary of State Becker to certify the referendum to the county Election Commissioners and order that the act be placed on the ballot for submission to the voters in the election of Nov. 4.

Judges Graves, Elder, Woodson and J. T. Blair voted to affirm the decision of the lower court, and Judges Higbee, Walker and David E. Blair dissented. The opinion is being written by Judge Blair. The workmen's compensation referendum case was taken to the Supreme Court by Thomas M. Sayman, St. Louis manufacturer, and a number of others who brought suit in Sayman's name, for an injunction against the Secretary of State to restrain him from allowing the workmen's compensation act, enacted upon the ballot in November, as sought in referendum petitions filed with Becker.

The petitions were circulated under the direction of Thomas J. McNamara, president of the St. Louis Building Trades Council, and other men in union labor circles who objected to the act as being inimical to the interests of workmen.

After the referendum petitions were filed with the Secretary of State, Sayman and others filed suit in the Circuit Court of Cole County for an injunction to restrain the Secretary of State from certifying the referendum. Circuit Judge Slate granted a temporary order and appointed James T. Walsh as commissioner to take depositions. Walsh conducted hearings and reported that the petitions circulated in St. Louis were defective in that 754 of the 3243 names contained in the petitions had not been legally attached thereto, leaving the petitions 547 names short of the 2317 required to constitute the necessary 5 per cent of the qualified voters of the district.

Judge Slate Reversed Decision.
Judge Slate saw the matter in a different light and reversed his commission without giving any reason and without the defendants. An appeal from his decision was then taken to the Supreme Court.

Commissioner Walsh found that names of dead men, nonresidents, minors and of persons who had not been citizens of the state were included in the petitions, and his recommendation to the court was that Judge Slate issue the injunction as applied for.

Those favoring the referendum denied that any fraud had been attempted in obtaining the names and insisted that sufficient names for the referendum had been obtained. The decision of the Supreme Court means that the voters in the November election shall decide by their votes whether the workmen's compensation act as now constituted shall become a law or be stopped, as intended by the referendum against it.

Supreme Court Accepts Jurisdiction in Primary Fraud Case.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9.—The Supreme Court of Missouri today accepted jurisdiction in the application for a writ of prohibition to prevent the use of the ballots and other records of the primary election of Aug. 1 in St. Louis County precincts, in the grand jury inquiry into allegations of wholesale fraud in the primary. Application for the writ was filed Sept. 28 and it was expected the court would decide to hear the case.

A preliminary rule was issued by the court today, presentable next Saturday. The application is directed against Circuit Judge Wurdeman of St. Louis County. It was filed ostensibly on behalf of John W. Copeland, who served as election judge in Walltown precinct, one of the precincts in which it is desired to void the ballots.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH KILLING MINISTER AND WOMAN CHOIR SINGER

DERNIER'S SLAYER KNEW HIM WELL, OFFICER DECLARES

Deputy Says Phoenix Clubman's Clothes Were Found in Car Folded as He Would Have Left Them.

CASE LOOKED LIKE DROWNING ACCIDENT

Only One Point Overlooked by Murderer; Inquiry Reveals Victim Had Many Affairs With Women.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 9.—That Guy D. Dernier, former clubman of Phoenix, Los Angeles and Chicago, whose body was found floating in an irrigation canal on the outskirts of Phoenix on the afternoon of Sept. 12, was strangled to death by some one intimately familiar with the personal habits and ways of his victim, was the opinion expressed here today by Deputy Sheriff H. C. Parsons of the Maricopa County Sheriff's office. "I have been connected with this case from the very start," the deputy sheriff said, "and I have always been of the opinion that the man who murdered Guy Dernier knew him well and was acquainted with his personal habits. It was a clever scheme on the part of the perpetrator of the crime—so cleverly, calmly and deliberately carried out that it convinces me that it was premeditated. The plans were laid so as to give the appearance of accidental drowning. The body was overlooked only one point—the fact that blood will not come to the surface of a dead man's skin."

Clothes Found Neatly Folded.
Parsons said that he had been intimately acquainted with Dernier during his life in Phoenix and was familiar with his personal habits and hobbies, and that the clothes and other things found in the slain man's automobile, which was parked on the roadside near the spot where the body was found, were neatly folded and placed in just the same order that Dernier himself would have done it.

"When the body was discovered I went out and investigated the case, and had I not examined the body closely it would have impressed me as an accidental drowning," the deputy sheriff continued. "The car had been parked where a mound of grass skirted the road, just the kind of place Dernier would have picked. The clothing was arranged in the same orderly way that Dernier's personal effects would have been arranged. There was not a footprint leading to or from the car, indicating that the murderer walked over the splootch of grass until a distance from the car. The bruises and marks about the throat were inflicted before the body was thrown into the stream."

Had Started to Visit Widow.

Tracing of Dernier's actions on the day his body was found by a rancher floating in the Arizona Canal eight miles from Phoenix shows that he was last seen when he left his friend, Harry Tritle, who had driven with him from Los Angeles the day previous, at 12:15 p. m. "I am going out to see the little widow," Dernier told Tritle as he drove off in his car. An hour and a half later his body, still warm, was discovered in the canal. It is this hour and a half that has baffled the authorities. What happened in that time, where Dernier went and whom he met remain a mystery.

Many prominent persons have been questioned, all to the end that "no promising clew has been obtained." Those who have been detailed to conduct the investigation declare that Dernier's activity in Phoenix society was so extensive and contrasting in its scope that it is difficult to point suspicion to any particular individual.

Had Affairs With Many Women.
"Dernier was known to have associated with many prominent persons of society," said Parsons. "On the other hand, we have found out about innumerable joy rides, dances."

RIGHT OF U. S. TO PROHIBIT LIQUOR IN AMERICAN WATER CONCEDED BY THE BRITISH

PROHIBITION of possession or transportation of liquors on vessels within American waters will give rise to no international complications, according to the view expressed by British Foreign Office officials today.

The Government's view, according to these authorities, is that the matter is one in which the United States has a perfect right to take any action it sees fit.

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR FALLS 4 STORIES, DIES

Jackson County Officer Had Been Nervous, Friends Say—Accounts Reported Correct.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 9.—Henry C. Page, 38 years old, Jackson County public administrator, died early today as the result of falling or jumping from the fourth floor of the Keith & Perry Building, in the heart of the business district.

The body was discovered by a traffic patrolman.

No witness has been found to the tragedy.

Page had appeared nervous for the last six months, his friends said today. Early in June, he took a trip to California for his health. On his return he seemed somewhat improved.

"He had been acting peculiarly for several months," said Frank Himes, chief assistant to Page in the office of Public Administrator.

The accounts of Page are in excellent condition, according to Edward Cadman, chief deputy clerk of the Probate Court.

The office of Public Administrator, which is on a fee basis, is said to pay the largest return of any office in Jackson County in normal years. It is reported the fees last year exceeded $35,000. Page was bonded for $50,000. He carried life insurance totaling $82,000, according to Chief Assistant Himes.

Page had been active in Republican politics in the Twelfth Ward here. He was 34 years old.

Madison Fire Loss $25,000.
Fire believed to have started from crossed wires at 3 a. m. today caused damage estimated at $25,000 to the interior of a three-story building at Thirtieth street and Madison avenue, in Madison, Ill., occupied by the grocery and meat market of Naum Lazaros and, on the upper floors, a number of roomers. The fire started in the roof and was brought under control at 6 a. m. when it reached the first floor, so that the loss of grocery stock was principally caused by water. All the roomers escaped with safety.

SAID TO HAVE MISTAKEN THE IDENTITY OF PAIR IN DARK

Charge of Murder Against Clifford Hayes, 19, Admirer of Pearl Bahmer, Based on Alleged Statement by Raymond Schneider, Held as Witness.

"HE IS A LIAR," SAYS ACCUSED YOUTH

Young Man Is Said to Have Followed Girl and Man to Park, and to Have Opened Fire on Couple Under Crabapple Tree.

By the Associated Press.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 9.—Clifford Hayes, 19-year-old admirer of Pearl Bahmer, who found the bodies of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, choir singer, was arrested today and formally charged with first-degree murder for the slayings.

Raymond Schneider, who was with the Bahmer girl when the bodies were found, was held as a material witness. Prosecutors Beckman and Stricker of Middlesex and Somerset counties say Schneider signed a 300-word statement accusing Hayes of the crime.

Laid to Mistaken Identity.
According to Schneider's statement, the double slaying was the result of mistaken identity. He had gone out with Hayes on the night of the murders, he said, trailing a man who accompanied the Bahmer girl. Seeing a couple beneath a crabapple tree, he said, Hayes opened fire. Formal announcement of the arrests was made at 11:45 a. m. by Prosecutor Stricker.

The announcement, issued jointly by Prosecutors Stricker and Beckman, read:

"Upon information in the Prosecutor's office obtained from Raymond Schneider and other witnesses, we feel obliged under the circumstances to prefer a charge of murder against one Clifford Hayes. A material witness awaiting further developments in the case.

"Process will be issued out of Somerset County, where it appears the crime was committed. Consequently, the prisoners will be detained in the Somerset County jail."

The prosecutors would not say whether the arrest of Hayes had eliminated the Hall and Mills families from further consideration. No further arrests are contemplated for the present, they said.

"Liar," Hayes Says.
Hayes, when confronted with Schneider's story, exclaimed: "He is a liar."

Schneider, who admits he is in love with the Bahmer girl, said he was standing on a street corner with Hayes and Leo Kauffman, when they saw the girl pass with her stepfather, Nicholas Bahmer. He was jealous of the stepfather, he said, and told the others of his suspicions. They agreed to follow the pair.

GREEK COMMANDER SAYS HE WILL NOT SURRENDER THRACE

Gen. Leonardopoulos Declares Change of Government Has Stimulated and United Troops.

"WILL KEEP INTACT THE NEW GREECE"

"Turks May Think We Are Beaten, but Let Them Try to Prove It on Soil of Thrace," He Says.

By the Associated Press.
ATHENS, Oct. 9.—Gen. Leonardopoulos, new Greek commander in Eastern Thrace, was greeted by the populace and soldiery as "the liberator of Adrianople" upon his arrival here Saturday.
The title "liberator" arises from the fact that he was the first Greek to enter Adrianople after the Bulgarians and Turks were driven from the city in 1918. He now has returned in the midst of the extensive preparations being made to resist the Turkish reconquest.
Although Gen. Leonardopoulos today is one of the foremost military leaders in Greece, he traveled from Athens in an ordinary railway coach. In spite of his effort to avoid attention, however, he found delegations awaiting him at virtually every station along the route across Thrace.

Army May Discard Orders.
At this moment it is evident that the army has little intention of evacuating Thrace without a struggle, whatever the orders from Athens may be, and there is no doubt that many of the officers are looking back for inspiration to the examples of Gabriele d'Annunzio at Fiume and Gen. Zellerouski at Vilna. Events march swiftly in an atmosphere of "Greece today, and anything is possible."

Immediately after Gen. Leonardopoulos had passed through the cheering columns of troops in the Rue Karagatch to the new headquarters in the Government Palace, he received the Associated Press correspondent, with whom he freely discussed the situation.
In the reply to the question whether Thrace was going to fight, he said, speaking in French:
"Will Not Surrender Thrace."
"We are prepared. The whole army acts nothing better than the opportunity. We shall not surrender Thrace. Any one who saw the soldiers along the Rue Karagatch today knows instinctively that my words reflect absolutely the spirit of the troops."
"We are one in an inflexible determination to keep intact the new Greece; no difference of opinion exists on this question. The Turks may think we are beaten, but let them try to prove it on the soil of Thrace."
Things are momentarily complicated and unsettled in Greece, owing to the revolution, but the change of government has served only to stimulate the troops and to unite them.

Pleased With Troops' Morale.
He has been particularly gratified to find the sturdy morale which exists among the trained veterans who saw two years' service in Asia Minor. There have been stories of weariness among these troops, but "wait and see," he says.
"If the troops have as much confidence in me as I have in them, we will win," said the General. "We are determined to redeem the recent reverses to the great army and to settle once for all the question of Turkish re-entry into Europe."

The General evaded questions regarding the strength of his available forces, which reliable local estimates place at about 45,000 men. The troops are well fed, equipped and conditioned and comprise all branches of the service. Apparently the general expectation is that the Turks will attack from the Chataigne line.
The evening before Gen. Leonardopoulos arrived a mass meeting was held for the chairman of the town councilors adopted resolutions urging the population to remain in the city and assist the army in repelling "the invaders."

President Authorizes Fund Appeal for Near East Relief

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A NATION-WIDE appeal for money for the relief of the thousands of refugees in the Near East has been authorized by President Harding. The money will be distributed through the American Red Cross and the Near East relief, working jointly, and will be raised by a special committee headed by former Postmaster-General Hayes. This statement was issued by the President.
"A recognized and most appealing emergency exists in the Near East. After full conference, it is unanimously agreed that the American Red Cross and the Near East Relief, two governmentally recognized organizations, are the logical instrumentalities through which this relief may be extended, and it is a manifest duty that they should take care of the situation. It has been decided that these two organizations will take care of the situation jointly. In a campaign of most cordial cooperation they will command the facilities for most efficient administration."

"In order to meet the situation there is created a special fund to be known as Near East Emergency Fund. This special fund is to be raised by a nationwide appeal, which appeal is endorsed and will be engaged in by the American Red Cross, the Y. W. C. A., the Federal Council of Churches, the Knights of Columbus, the American Relief Administration, the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee and Mr. Herbert Hoover of the American Relief Administration."

Meeting at White House.
"The relief work already afforded will be followed at once by the most prompt ministrations which the American Red Cross and Near East Relief can bestow in co-ordinated efforts, proceeding on the assumption that the hearts of the American people will respond generously enabling these agencies of relief to meet the crying emergency."

Where Money May Be Sent.
"Money may be sent to Elliot Wadsworth, treasurer of the American Red Cross, Washington, D. C., Cleveland H. Dodge, treasurer of the Near East Relief, 151 Fifth avenue, New York, or the Literary Digest, 354 Fourth avenue, New York. A special emphasis and appeal for funds will be made during the roll call of the Red Cross in November."

TURKS PROMISE TO STOP TROOP ACTIVITY IN NEUTRAL ZONES

zone near Ismid. Unless this was done, he declared, he might be obliged to make a demonstration on both flanks of the Turkish forces. Immediate suspension of the ferryboats on the Bosphorus and the Sea of Marmora had been ordered by the British.
With reference to the nonarrival of instructions, it was stated that the British had received all their instructions from London, but the French and Italians were awaiting completion of certain necessary dispatches from their Governments.
The principal reason for last night's conference with the High Commissioners was believed to be Ismet's refusal to limit the gendarmery.

A diplomat in close touch with the Mudania conference expressed the belief that the next 24 hours would spell either peace or war.

If Ismet continues his arrogant attitude and insists perpetually on seeking to upset negotiations, the conference must cease its efforts for peace," he declared.

The British Admiral in command has issued an order that, beginning today, no vessel, steam, sail or otherwise, would be permitted to move on the Bosphorus between 6 o'clock in the evening and 7 o'clock in the morning. "The troops have as much confidence in me as I have in them, we will win," said the General. "We are determined to redeem the recent reverses to the great army and to settle once for all the question of Turkish re-entry into Europe."

GREEK DELEGATES TOLD TO ACCEPT ALLIES' DECISIONS

By the Associated Press.

ATHENS, Oct. 9.—The Greek Government has instructed its delegates at the Mudania conference to accept decisions which may be unanimously agreed upon by the allied representatives. This action was taken following the receipt of advice from former Premier Venizelos that Eastern Thrace must be considered as lost to Greece.

Greece will endeavor to obtain two months' time to permit of the evacuation of her army and the Greek civilian population, which is estimated to aggregate 250,000. It is probable that 300,000 additional Greeks and Armenians will leave Constantinople for Greece, which will make more crushing the problem of the country, which is already burdened with refugees.

Sentences in Drug Cases Affirmed.
The United States Circuit Court of Appeals in an opinion filed here today, affirmed the sentence of one year and a day imposed on Harry Rya, a waiter, and of two years imposed on Frank Smith, negro, who were convicted Oct. 21, 1920, in Judge Farris' court, on charges of selling drugs in violation of the narcotic act. An appeal was taken and the men have been under bond. They will be taken to the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.

RUSSIA TO DEMAND RECOGNITION AS A SOVEREIGN POWER

Complete Acknowledgment by European States Wanted—Encouraged by Turks' Success in Diplomacy.

By ARNO-BOSCH FLEETROT, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—Russia, it is learned, has decided to demand full recognition as a sovereign state by the other European Powers. Encouraged by the Turks' success in the diplomatic field, the Moscow Government will reinforce the position it has taken for equal participation in the Constantinople conference and will stand on its rights as a sovereign power.

A double move has been made by Russia here within 24 hours. The first was to inform Leslie Ughart that Moscow refused to ratify his agreement made with Leonid Krasin, Minister for Foreign Affairs, for reopening the Ural mines, on the ground that the British refused to consider the Soviet as an equal power in the Dardanelles and Black Sea discussions.

Refusal Not Final.
Secondly, instructions were received by the Soviet delegation here to let it be known that the refusal to ratify the contract was not final but depended upon British recognition of the Soviet. Ughart refused to make a statement until he had reported to his London stockholders.

It is known here that Lloyd George has been following the Ughart negotiations with keen interest. Thus far, the British action upon the British Premier through Ughart.
The British have a number of unofficial representatives here, including Frank R. Wise, who made the first overtures to Maxim Litvinoff in Copenhagen two years ago, and they accept the Moscow decree as a political move. But they have reason to believe that Russia will stand on her demand for full recognition as a great European power with a special interest in Constantinople.

Victory for Insurgents.

As Krasin went to Moscow to urge ratification of the Ughart agreement and failed, it is taken to indicate a victory for the insurgent group. Krasin either must resign or accept the decision, and he has a place for a resignation which declares that one is against the Government.

TERMINAL VOTES $50,000,000 FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Stockholders Give Authority to Increase Bonded Indebtedness of Association to $100,000,000.

Authority to increase the capital stock and bonded indebtedness of the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000, to provide funds for improvements and future growth, was voted today at a meeting of the stockholders and directors.

Henry Miller, president of the Terminal, issued a statement saying that the association has outgrown the original financial structure of $50,000,000 and that the business has trebled in the last 25 years. His statement follows:

SNAKE POISON IS TAKEN TO GET NEW CURE FOR BITES

Bronx Curator Operates on 33 Reptiles With Bare Hands—"Whisky No Antidote."

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—One hundred and twenty-four drops of poison were taken from 24 copperheads and nine water moccasins in the reptile house of the Bronx Zoological Garden yesterday as the first step in a process to be completed in Brazil and which will consume nine months for the making of a serum to counteract snake bites.

Several score visitors to the zoo witnessed the operation, which was recorded by half a dozen motion picture cameras. Working with his bare hands, Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of the reptile house, seized the snakes, one by one, between the thumb and index finger of his right hand and forced them to strike their fangs against a cloth spread over the mouth of a glass. Whenever a reptile struck the poison could be seen running down into the funnel. As he worked the curator conversed with newspaper men.

"This probably will be a great surprise and blow to most of you," he said, "but as far as science is concerned, the old theory that whisky acts as an antidote for snake poison has been exploded. Whisky only stimulates the heart action and is extremely detrimental to successful treatment."

Truck Driver Hurt in Smash.
A Mack of 1114 Carr street, St. Louis, suffered a fracture of the chest bones last evening when a truck driven by him collided with an automobile owned by E. A. Toupou, which was parked in front of Toupou's home, 319 North Eighth street, East St. Louis.

Association is held by 15 railroads, although other lines use the facilities upon equal terms, under a decision of the United States Supreme Court.

Eleven Roads Represented.
Eleven of the 15 roads were represented at the meetings today. The roads, with their representative, were: the Board of directors of the Terminal, followed by Baltimore & Ohio, R. N. Begley; Chicago & Alton, W. G. Bled; C. & B. & Q. E. P. Bracken; Iron Mountain (now consolidated with the Missouri Pacific) but holding separate stock in the Terminal), W. G. Volmer; Louisville & Nashville, John Fitzgerald; Illinois Central, C. M. Kittle; Frisco, J. M. Kurn; Pennsylvania, Benjamin McKee; Missouri Pacific, A. R. Henson; Wabash, J. E. Tausig; and Big Four, H. A. Worcester.

The four stockholding roads not represented today are Rock Island, Cotton Belt, Southern, and Katy.

The action of today has been under consideration for two years. "We are now in position to meet any demands for expansion which may be made upon us and will give immediate consideration to such problems."

"We now have before us the recommendations of the engineers' committee which has made a thorough study of the terminal facilities here and will investigate carefully those recommendations to determine what portion of them may be suited to our needs."

Miller said that the $50,000,000 in bonds will be issued only as funds are needed for specific projects and that it may be some time before any part of the money is raised. Under terms of the resolution adopted by the stockholders and directors, the money may be used to meet maturing obligations.

It will be 1931 before the first $50,000,000 in bonds matures, Miller said. It has not been determined whether any of the money obtained through sale of the newly authorized bonds will be used in retiring the old issue. "Our action today was principally in preparation for contingencies," Miller added.

Report of Engineers.
The Engineers' Committee recommendations referred to by Miller were made public June 25. The committee represented the railroads, the states of St. Louis and East St. Louis, and interested organizations within the cities.

The committee made an exhaustive survey of the Terminal property here and its recommendations included projects, completion of which would involve an expenditure of between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000. The plan provides for an almost complete rearrangement of the Terminal system, use of the Municipal Bridge for passenger trains from the East, use of Merchants' Bridge for freight only, use of the railroad deck of Eads Bridge for interurban electric lines and numerous changes in the routing and construction of tracks on both sides of the river.

The committee asserted that completion of the projects would make possible a saving of $19,000,000 a year in operation of the railroads. Stock in the Terminal Railroad

MAN WOUNDED IN QUARREL AT SISTER-IN-LAW'S HOME

Wife's Brother Held Charged With Shooting During Fight, Makes Denial.

William Boedeker, 30, of 2427 A. Rutgers street, a machinist, is in a critical condition at the city hospital as the result of being shot twice. It is alleged, by his brother-in-law, Michael Stanley, 24, of 1311 Ohio avenue, during a quarrel at the home of Miss Florence Stanley, 2129 Rutgers street, a sister of Stanley's, where Boedeker and his wife were visiting last night.

Mrs. Boedeker said Stanley entered the room in which she and her husband were sitting. He had been drinking, she said, and began quarreling with Boedeker. As she pushed her husband into another room to avoid trouble, Stanley left the house to get a policeman. Miss Stanley went into another room and Michael followed Boedeker and fired three shots, she said. One bullet struck Boedeker near the heart and another entered his abdomen. Mrs. Boedeker was the only witness of the shooting. Stanley was arrested in an alley behind his home.

Boedeker, because of his condition, could not identify his assailant at the city hospital last night. Stanley, who is a route boss for the Union Fuel Co., is being held. He denies that he fired the shots. His brother is being held as a witness.

TRAIL OF NEGRO WHO ATTEMPTED ATTACK ON WOMAN IS LOST

Authorities and Posse Call Off Bloodhound After Two Unsuccessful Efforts.

A bloodhound with which St. Louis County authorities and a posse of neighbors attempted to locate a negro who, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, attempted to attack Mrs. Eric Fritz, 20 years old, of 5500 Manchester road, a short distance west of her home, was called off the trail at 5:30 yesterday morning after two unsuccessful trials.

The dog was started along footprints that could be seen in a field south of the road and, evidently on the scent, went a quarter mile southwest to the Brentwood car stop on the Kirkwood-Ferguson line, where it was turned back. It was then taken the trail again to a roadhouse in the negro settlement in Brentwood, about a half mile from the scene of the attempted assault. No one identified the assailant.

The dog was taken back to the scene and started out again, but lost the trail almost immediately. Part of the first route the dog followed lay along Shady Lane, the right of way of the Brentwood "dinky."

Neighbors before the dog arrived at 10 p. m. combed the vicinity without success, and it is believed that the negro may have boarded a street car and left the neighborhood.

17,195 GOVERNMENT SEAL SKINS SOLD

Greatest Number Ever Auctioned Here—First Day's Sales Total $650,000.

Sales of United States Government furs, amounting to about $650,000, were made today in the sale conducted by the Furze Fur Co., its salesroom at Fourth and Market streets.

The sales included 17,195 Alaska sea furs, the largest number ever sold here, which brought $234,428.75. There were also 12,000 white fox skins, $16 wildcat and lynx. Prices were, on an average, about the same as those of the sale last April. At that time the sale of seal skins amounted to 12,000 skins, the largest number up to that time.

Philip B. Fouke, president of the company, was auctioneer. A private sale, for the next two days, will follow the sale of Government furs.

LEADER FORCED DOWN
MILE FROM FINISH

Lieut. Sanderson's Plane Lands When Gasoline Runs Out; Another Crashes in Coal Yard.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 9.—Of the 19 United States navy seaplanes starting in yesterday's 160-mile fly-by, the Curtiss marine flying trophy and cash prizes of $2500, only two finished. One crashed in a coal yard, one capsized in Lake St. Clair and six were disabled by minor accidents.

None of the pilots was injured.
Still at the wheel saved many. It was a great race, one that thrilled some 300,000 persons wedged along the banks of the Detroit River and the shores of Lake St. Clair. It was a supreme test of the courage of our first line of defense personnel.

The race was won by a rank outsider, so far as the opinions of the viewers were concerned. Every other plane and engine has been mentioned as a possible contender.
Technicians had indulged in learned discussions of the aeromarine U-873, the Liberty HC, the Curtiss D-12 and the Wright E-2.
But the little rotary Lawrence J-1, which powers the navy TR-1 bi-plane, had been overlooked. It breasted across the finish a flying winner. Lady Luck befriended it.
Lieut. A. W. Gorton, a pilot with more than 1200 hours in the air, is a hero here today. For Detroit is his home town.

Leader's Gasoline Runs Out.
It was a heart-breaking finish for Lieut. L. H. Sanderson and Lieut.
Rutledge Irvine. They were piloting converted airt seaplanes of which Lieut. H. J. Brown, in a TR-2 aero-marine; Lieut. S. W. Callaway in a TS-10 Liberty, and Ensign A. J. Williams, in an HA-2 Curtiss, with a 420-horsepower Liberty.

No Lines on Pulitzer Pilots.
The experts who expected to get a line on the Navy team for the Pulitzer Trophy race were disappointed, for with the exception of Lieut. Sanderson, who made so magnificent a showing in the cumbersome Curtiss triplane, all the Navy's Pulitzer race pilots were eliminated before they could demonstrate their racing ability. They are Capt. Mulcahy and Lieuts. Rittenhouse, Calla-way and Brown and Ensign Williams.

The next event on the aviation meet program is the Detroit News
Aerial Mail Trophy race on Thursday. It is for multi-motored airplanes capable of carrying a payload
of 800 pounds, and having an air
speed greater than 75 miles an hour.
The distance is 257.75 miles, 10 times around a closed circuit of 25.77
miles.

There are only five entries, all
from the United States Army Air Service. The machines are four Martin bombers and one Martin transport. Each is powered with twin Liberty 400-horsepower motors.

NELSON STORE AND PLANT TO
CLOSE FOR FOUNDER'S FUNERAL Services for Manufacturer to Be Wednesday, at Residence of Son-
in-Law and Daughter.

The St. Louis office and store of
the N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Co., Tenth and Chestnut streets, will be closed Wednesday afternoon and the factory at Leclaire, near Edwardsville, will be closed all day Wednesday, for the funeral of Nelson O.
Nelson, founder of the company and philanthropist, who died Thursday night at Los Angeles, Cal., where he had been living recently.

Many of the 450 employees of the two places are expected to attend the funeral. Nelson, who was 78 years old, had instituted a profit-sharing system which gave the employees a closer interest than usual in a company and its founder. The services will be at 2:30 p. m. at the residence of Nelson's son-in-law and daughter,
Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Lawnin, 5138
Washington boulevard. The body will be taken to Valhalla Cemetery for cremation and final interment will be in the Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Lawnin is president of the manufacturing company, having succeeded Nelson several years ago.

Funston Bodyguard Dies at 66.

New Photograph of Princess Who Is to Become Bride of Former Kaiser

PRINCESS SCHOENAICH-CAROLATH.

Dispatches from Berlin tell of the Princess' ordering her wedding gown from Berlin. It will be of mauve chiffon and velvet, richly embroidered with rhinestones and steel cut beads. The color was selected in deference to the wishes of Count Wilhelm Hohenzollern as the deposed monarch is known since the loss of his throne. The wedding is to take place on the evening of Nov. 5.

Lieut. W. K. Patterson, piloting the gear-driven D-4 Gallaudet, powered with a 420-horsepower Liberty, went out of the race on the fifth lap, his engine going dead when he tried to taxi. Engine bugs of various descriptions likewise eliminated Lieut. H. J. Brown, in a TR-2 aero-marine; Lieut. S. W. Callaway in a TS-10 Liberty, and Ensign A. J. Williams, in an HA-2 Curtiss, with a 420-horsepower Liberty.

The experts who expected to get
a line on the Navy team for the Pulitzer Trophy race were disappointed, for with the exception of Lieut. Sanderson, who made so magnificent a showing in the cumber-
some Curtiss triplane, all the Navy's Pulitzer race pilots were eliminated
before they could demonstrate their racing ability. They are Capt. Mulcahy and Lieuts. Rittenhouse, Calla-way and Brown and Ensign Williams.

The next event on the aviation
meet program is the Detroit News
Aerial Mail Trophy race on Thursday. It is for multi-motored airplanes capable of carrying a payload
of 800 pounds, and having an air
speed greater than 75 miles an hour.
The distance is 257.75 miles, 10 times
around a closed circuit of 25.77
miles.

There are only five entries, all
from the United States Army Air Service. The machines are four Martin bombers and one Martin transport. Each is powered with twin Liberty 400-horsepower motors.

NELSON STORE AND PLANT TO
CLOSE FOR FOUNDER'S FUNERAL
Services for Manufacturer to Be Wednesday, at Residence of Son-
in-Law and Daughter.

The St. Louis office and store of
the N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Co., Tenth and Chestnut streets, will be closed Wednesday afternoon and the factory at Leclaire, near Edwardsville, will be closed all day Wednesday, for the funeral of Nelson O.
Nelson, founder of the company and philanthropist, who died Thursday night at Los Angeles, Cal., where he had been living recently.

Many of the 450 employees of the
two places are expected to attend the funeral. Nelson, who was 78 years old, had instituted a profit-sharing system which gave the employees a closer interest than usual in a company and its founder. The services will be at 2:30 p. m. at the residence
of Nelson's son-in-law and daughter,
Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Lawnin, 5138
Washington boulevard. The body will be taken to Valhalla Cemetery for cremation and final interment will be in the Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Lawnin is president of the manufacturing company, having succeeded
Nelson several years ago.

Funston Bodyguard Dies at 66.
By the Associated Press.
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 9.— Charles E. Passmore, who was personal bodyguard for Gen. Frederick Funston in the Philippine campaign and in the capture of Aguinaldo, an insurgent leader, died here today, aged 66 years. He served in the Spanish-American War, in the Philippine insurrection and in the World War. A personal letter from Gen.
Funston praising him for his assistance in the capture of Aguinaldo was among the treasured possessions of Passmore.

Among the disabled craft was the

MISS GATLIN FINISHES FLIGHT ACROSS U. S.

Gold Star Mothers' Organizer Makes Trip as "Official Mail Matter" in 27 Hours.

By the Associated Press.
MINEOLA, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Miss Lillian Gatlin, an organizer of the National Association of Gold Star Mothers, arrived at Curtiss Field in a United States Postal Service De Havilland airplane at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, completing her transcontinental flight which began at 9 a. m., Oct. 5, when she left San Francisco.

Her flight was made under the auspices of Assistant Postmaster-General Paul Henderson, to express the air mail service's indorsement of the movement to nationalize the remembrance of aviators who died in the service. The entire trip was made in postal planes, although none of them carried mail when Miss Gatlin was a passenger.

When Miss Gatlin left Chicago at 6:21 o'clock yesterday morning she carried a letter from Mayor Thompson of Chicago to Mayor Hylan of New York. She said that she is the first woman to make the transcontinental flight and that the trip gave her a "good rest."

The flying time of 19 hours and 50 minutes between San Francisco and Chicago was announced as a new world's record for mail service—Miss Gatlin herself, duly tagged, being the principal piece of mail. To avoid complications with the postoffice regulations, Miss Gatlin was authorized by the Assistant Postmaster-General to make the trip as "official mail."

The complete flying time from San Francisco to New York was announced as 27 hours 11 minutes.

MONUMENT TO EUGENE FIELD
UNVEILED IN CHICAGO PARK

Children Raised Nearly $10,000 Toward Cost of Memorial to Poet Born in St. Louis.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—A monument to Eugene Field, the "children's poet," was unveiled in Lincoln Park today, commemorating the interest of the children of Chicago in the author of "Little Boy Blue," "Wynk-ie Blythen and Nod" and the rest of his series of lullabies.

The children, through newspaper funds, raised nearly $10,000 toward the memorial's cost, the remainder being donated by the Ferguson Fund, a trust founded by its donor for the erection of statues in the city's public parks.

Two small grandchildren of the poet, Jean Field Foster and Robert Field, pulled the cords which unveiled the monument.

Melville E. Stone, counselor and former general manager of the Associated Press, delivered the principal address. Stone, while associated with Victor Lawson in the publication of the Chicago Daily News, brought the poet to Chicago from Denver in 1883, and Field remained with the News until his death, in 1896.

The memorial shows a brooding angel hovering over two sleeping children and dropping the sand of dreams into their eyes. Beneath, on one side, are carved the opening lines of the poet's "Dutch Lullaby": Field was born at St. Louis in 1850, either on Sept. 2 or 3. The Field family genealogy gives the latter date as the correct one, though the poet for most of his life observed the former as his birth date.

with Dutch law. Baron Schommel-Fennick van der Oye, the Mayor of Doorn, will act as civil officer on the occasion and deliver the customary speech. The church ceremony will be conducted by the Rev. Dr.
Vogel of Potsdam, former court chaplain, who will preach the sermon.

By order of the former German monarch, no photographers or newspaper men will be allowed to attend the ceremony.

DOORN, Holland, Oct. 9.—The bride of former Emperor William, the Princess of Reuss, will assume the title "Queen Wilhelmina of Prussia," according to an announcement today during a preliminary reception to the bride and bridegroom at the castle.

The former Kaiser was attired in his favorite uniform of a high Admiral of the fleet, with his breast covered with a multitude of pre-war decorations and his left sleeve showing the mourning band.

The ex-ruler showed many courtesies to the guests. He was in high good humor, entertaining the company with anecdotes.
"I shall soon be the happiest man in the world," he said, and then added sadly: "No longer will I be called the solitary exile of Doorn."

Princess Equally Happy.
The Princess of Reuss appeared equally happy. She wore a toilet of state with a dark veil slightly covering a jeweled diadem.

The only member of the Hohen-sollern family present was the ex-Emperor's fourth son, August Wilhelm, although the ceremonial was attended by a large number of German professors, former Generals, court officials, members of the nobility and their wives, including Count von Moltke, together with several Dutch professors and many members of the Dutch nobility. The castle was adorned with bouquets and garlands of flowers which were arriving daily. The gift of admirers and friends of the ex-Emperor in many parts of the world.

The registry book was signed by many hundreds of visitors. The book was placed in a room in the new part of the castle which is designed after the architecture of the Middle Ages. It is the building commonly used as the offices of the former Emperor's guards.

Marriage Is Set for Nov. 3.
According to the present arrangements the marriage ceremony on Nov. 3 will occur in the chapel of the castle. This will be in harmony with the wishes of the bride and groom.

SAN JUAN REACHED
BY SAMPAIO CORREIA

More Than 10,000 People Line Harbor Front to Greet New York-to-Brazil Flyers.

By GEORGE T. BYE.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—The nearest approach to unearthing controversy records of Christ was announced yesterday by Dr. George Byron Gordon, director of the Museum of the University of Pennsylvania. The discovery was made by Dr. Clarence Stanley Fisher, director of excavations at Beth Shan, in Palestine.

The discovery was the burial place of Antiochus, the first cousin of Herod the Great. Antiochus, in all probability, Dr. Gordon asserted, was one of the men assigned by Herod to direct the slaughter of the children in Bethlehem, as narrated by Matthew, in a vain effort to kill the infant Christ, who had been described as the king of the Jews.

"The interesting part is that the father, Phallion, was killed in this district during a battle with Pompey, and his son Antiochus was supposed to have died later," Dr. Fisher wrote. The discovery of his coffin in our cemetery proved this point beyond a doubt. So far as know this is the first sarcophagus of the Herodian family that has been found."

Dr. Gordon also announced that Dr. Fisher had found, in deeper levels of occupation, the first known sarcophagi of the Philistines. Readers of the Bible will recall that they defeated King Saul on Mount Gilboa, which overshadows the ancient fortress city, and, cutting off his head, hailed his body to the city walls.

Levels of six cities so far have been found at Beth Shan, Dr. Gordon declared, while more are known to be below. The site is said to have been occupied for a longer continuous period than any other place of human habitation. It was also the most fought over spot in the world, since it serves as the gateway between Mesopotamia and Egypt and was necessary to the conquest of Palestine.

God, what a mistake! Now I will have to stand for the funeral expenses, and what have I left? My family is broken up, and, while Mrs.
Hall has servants, I am alone. I am forced to get my own meals and do my own washing. And I am left with my daughter in her last year of school."

Saw Nothing of Letters.
Schneider declared that neither he nor his companions had touched the bodies and they saw nothing of the love letters written by Mrs. Mills which were found scattered about the scene.

Detectives continued vigorously to work on the case, clearly indicating that they did not believe the double slaying had been wholly cleared up by Schneider's statement.

When word of the arrest was taken to the home of Mrs. Frances Hall, widow of the slain clergyman, who has been repeatedly questioned about the case, Miss Sally Peters, her most intimate friend and adviser, said:
"Isn't that fine! What has Mr.
Stricker got to say for himself now for the way he has been treating Frances and Willie (Willie Stevens, eccentric brother of Mrs. Hall)?"

Mills More Bitter.
James Mills, husband of the slain woman, was more bitter when told of the arrest.

Baltzell, Wilshusen and myself felt so calm with San Juan an hour away that we played a score of poker hands to try to get rid of the Dominican and Haytian money we are all carrying and which is no longer good.

There was little sunshine during the flight, but fine irradiation for us when we flew along the San Juan harbor, about 10 minutes before 4.
San Juan time, to give Tommy Baltzell a chance to turn his camera on the city. Then the skipper turned about and passed along the peninsula of the city, flying with the wind, and banked gracefully at the entrance to the harbor for a gentle drop into the bumpy water.

There were more than 10,000 people lined along the harbor front and hundreds were arriving every second, when I left to make hotel arrangements and especially to order the American style ham and eggs, which our palates, satiated with Haytian greatly.

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE FOR W. J. STEVENS FUNERAL

Body of Assistant Superintendent, Who Died in Kansas, to Be Brought Here.

All public schools will be closed at noon tomorrow, to permit principals and teachers to attend the funeral of W. J. Stevens, an assistant superintendent of schools, who died yesterday at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., from a general physical breakdown. Services will be held at 3 p. m. at the Second Baptist Church, King's highway and Washington boulevard. The body will be cremated.

This will be the first time that all the public schools have been closed for a funeral of any member of the instruction corps since the death of Superintendent of Instruction Ben Blewett in January, 1917.

Stevens, who was 68 years old, had gone to Madison, Wis., last June, after the schools here closed, to take a graduate course at the University of Wisconsin. He contracted a cold and then suffered a general weakening. He first went to a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich., and then to St. Luke's Hospital here. Later, he went to Fort Leavenworth, accompanied by his wife, to stay with a son, Maj. James Allen Stevens. His condition became worse a few days ago.

Born in Montreal, He was born near Montreal, Canada, in 1864, and his family removed to Illinois when he was young. He attended Oberlin College and later the University of Wisconsin.

He came to St. Louis in 1901 and was principal of the Pope, Hodgson, Field, Mulanphy and Wyman schools, in the order named. He was promoted to the assistant superintendent a year ago, and given jurisdiction over 26 schools.

Botany His Favorite Study.

Especially was he interested in botany, and developed gardens at the schools under his charge. It is said he often declared his school would have a garden if he had to put it on the roof. He did important work, which attracted national attention among educators, as head of a committee which revised the course of study in geography. He was president of the Teachers' Benevolent Association for two years, during the World War was chairman of the Junior Red Cross, and was a member of the Society of Pedagogy.

He lived in a hotel, Taylor and Pershing avenues. He is survived by Mrs. Stevens, Maj. Stevens, another son, Graham C. Stevens of Los Angeles, Cal., and two daughters, Dr. Harriet Cory of 543 Rosedale avenue, and Mrs. Joseph Kellerman of 5633 Julian avenue.

Millions of cartons of drugs

DURING the war McKesson & Robbins supplied many million packages of drugs, chemicals and pharmaceuticals to the Medical Supply Bureau of the War Department. Their previous experience had shown them how to mobilize and prepare without loss of motion.

Since McKesson & Robbins were founded in 1833 they had been through three wars and various disasters and epidemics in all parts of the world. In each they had rendered the service needed in the best way and the shortest time.

Throughout their development, as exporters, importers, chemical experts, McKesson & Robbins have had before them the broader humanitarian aspects of their work. Their reward has been the world wide reputation of products bearing the McK & R trademark.

For Sudden Ills

The unexpected sometimes happens and often finds people unprepared. McKesson & Robbins' Menth-Albolene is a household remedy that is beneficial in a variety of ills. For burns, bruises or scalds, it is delightfully cooling and soothing. It is also efficient in sprains.

Menth-Albolene may be used for colds in the head or nasal catarrh and usually brings relief in headache, neuralgia or other local pains. This McK & R product comes in very handy for sudden ills and is an asset to every household medicine chest. It is manufactured by McKesson & Robbins, so you are assured of its quality.

The Baby Powder Doctors Advise

Baby's tender skin must be carefully watched. You will keep the baby contented and save yourself work by using C. S. Z., the genuine Compound Sterate of Zinc. This "waterproof" baby powder has decided advantages that appeal to every thoughtful mother. C. S. Z. prevents your baby from chafing. It stays where you put it, and no matter how much the child may toss about in the crib, it will not be dislodged. Thus it saves you a lot of worry concerning skin irritations. As light as thistle, and marvelously soft and soothing, C. S. Z. is without an equal in correcting skin irritations of every kind—in adults as well as babies. Physicians for years have recommended and prescribed C. S. Z. as the most healing and protective dusting powder for infants. Remember it throws off moisture—keeps the skin dry. Ask for the genuine Compound Sterate of Zinc, originated and made by McKesson & Robbins.

For Softening the Skin

Delicate, soft, white hands—a smooth white neck—these add immeasurably to a woman's charm. The use of McKesson & Robbins' Hand Lotion softens and whitens the hands or neck giving that beautiful, satin-white appearance admired by all. It is delightfully perfumed and unexcelled for preserving and beautifying the skin all the year round. Look for the oval McKesson & Robbins label when you buy.

Good Teeth For Good Health

Brush your teeth thoroughly at least twice a day. A clean tooth will not decay—a fact. And a clean mouth and healthy dentures are closely related to your general well-being. When you brush your teeth with McKesson & Robbins' Calox you know they are cleaned thoroughly and safely. You can feel the oxygen which is generated seeking out every crevice, destroying germs and refreshing the entire mouth. Lime water, which neutralizes the mouth acidity, is also formed by Calox. Beautiful white teeth and a healthy mouth are your rightful inheritance. Use Calox regularly and you will be astonished at the improvement it makes in the appearance of your teeth. Ask for the big box of Calox. It goes twice as far. Your dentist will tell you why Calox is so beneficial.

METROPOLITAN SEASON WILL OPEN NOV. 13

Two Novelties, Six Revivals and Repertoire of 45 Operas Listed for Season of 23 Weeks.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Metropolitan Opera Company announced today opening of its fifteenth season of grand opera under the direction of Giulio Gatti-Casazza. The season will open Nov. 13 and continue for 23 weeks.

Two novelties, six revivals and a standard repertoire of 45 operas are listed for the season. More than a score of new singers are in the company and there have been noteworthy additions to other departments into which the organization is divided.

One of the new operas to be produced this season is "Anna Bolina," in Italian. The libretto is by Giuseppe Adam and is taken from the comedy "Génie-Alegré" by the Spanish brothers Quintero. The music is by Franco Vittadini. This opera, according to the announcement, has been rated "a brilliant success in various European theaters."

"Mona Lisa," Novelty. The other novelty of the season is "Mona Lisa," in German, poem by Beatrix Dovsky and music by Max Schillings. This, the announcement states, has acquired great popularity during recent years in German and American theaters.

The following revivals also will be made with a completely new mise en scene: "Romeo et Juliette," in French, by Charles Gounod; "Thais," in French, by Jules Massenet; "Guglielmo Tell," in Italian, by Gioachino Rossini; "L'Africaine," in Italian, by Giacomo Meyerbeer; "Rienzi," in German, by Richard Wagner; "Tannhauser," in German, by Richard Wagner.

Singers new to the Metropolitan Company this season are listed as follows: Sopranos—Barbara Kemp, Queneo, Mario, Della Reinhard, Elizabeth Rethberg, Laura Robertson, Thalia Sabanieta, Selma Segall, Lucille Taylor and Mariel Tindary; mezzo-sopranos and contraltos—Ina Bousoykaya and Sigrid Négus; tenors—Edward Johnson, Giacomo Lauri-Volpi, Edmé Rousseau, Curt Taucher and Arnold Tokoyan; baritone—Edmond Burke and Gustav Schatzendorf; and basses—Paul Bender, Michael Bohnen and Italo Pochi.

The conductors are Giuseppe Danneberg, Arthur Rodansky, Louis Hasselmann, Roberto Moracchi, Gennaro Papi and Giulio Selli. Several additions to the staff are noted. August Berger, for many years ballet master of the Prague National Opera, will co-operate with Rossini Galli in the direction of the Corps de Ballet and is listed as a ballet master with Ottokar Barrik, who bears the same title in the Metropolitan.

In addition to Samuel Theisman as stage director, Wilhelm von Symmet, for years connected with the Vienna State Opera, has been engaged for similar work with the Metropolitan. Edward Siegel remains as technical director.

The usual subscription performances will take place four nights a week and Saturday afternoons. A subscription for popular-priced performances on Saturday nights also will be opened, as was done last season.

PRIEST'S PROPERTY TO CHURCH

Monsignor Connolly's Will Leaves Fund for Parish School. The will of the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Joseph Connolly, pastor of St. Teresa's Catholic Church, Grand boulevard and North Market street, who died Sept. 28 of heart trouble, was filed today for probate, naming Archbishop Glennon as executor.

The property was bequeathed to the St. Teresa Parish Association, toward a fund for a free parish school, with the exception of $3 bequests to a brother, Francis X. Connolly; a sister, Mrs. Eugene O'Mara; a half-brother, Eugene J. Connolly, and a nephew, Thomas J. Connolly.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Removes the Roots of Superfluous Hair

"Seeing is believing." When your own eyes see the roots come out, you know the surface hair is gone, not merely the surface hair.

Yes, it is really true that the new electrolytic method removes superfluous hair completely—roots and all—without the least injury, leaving the skin soft, smooth, hairless. You do the work in a jiffy, in your own home, without assistance. It does away with numerous expensive visits to the electrolytic expert. Done away with the discomforts of shaving at frequent intervals. Nothing like it ever known before. Perfectly harmless, absolute, non-irritating. Let hairless, radiant skin today from your drugstore. Follow the easy instructions and have the surprise of your life.

FORMER ST. LOUIS TEACHER DIES

Death of Mrs. Sallie R. Mosby in England Reported.

Mrs. Sallie R. Mosby, formerly a teacher in the St. Louis public schools, died Aug. 9 at Dartford, Kent, England, according to information received here by friends from her daughter, Mrs. Philip T. Gold-ney, with whom she lived. Burial was at Dartford. Mrs. Mosby came to St. Louis in 1869 with her parents. She was married here in 1871. She was married here in 1882 to G.

B. Barron, who died a few years later. Mrs. Mosby resided here with Mrs. Goldney until 1913, when Mr. Goldney and his family went to England. Mrs. Mosby went to New York, where she remained about a year, moving to England in 1923. She was the sister of Mrs. Lucy A. Wigan, also a teacher, who founded a settlement school for working girls in St. Louis which was financed by donations until the death of Mrs. Wigan in 1912.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH IN TRUCK-AUTO CRASH

Working on Rear Tire of Truck When Another Machine Ran Into It.

Marion Massander, 18 years old, of 435 North Fifth street, East St. Louis, was killed at 9 o'clock last night on the Belleville road between East St. Louis and Edgemont when he was crushed between an automobile truck, on which he was replacing a tire, and another machine which crashed into it from the rear. Frank Abegg, 35, of 2618 Bond avenue, driver of the car which struck Massander, and C. L. Ripplinger, of 2230 Bond avenue, East St. Louis, riding with Abegg, told police that the truck had no tail light showing. Both are being held for the coroner's inquest. Police declare the truck was standing near an electric light and could have been seen. Massander suffered a fracture of the skull.

NEGRO, DRUG PEDDLER SUSPECT, HURLS 'EVIDENCE' INTO RIVER

"Spider" Webb Escapes From Federal Agents' Web Spun Around.

Marked 50-Cent Piece.
Gus (Spider) Webb, a negro, escaped with spider-like ease from the web made for him by Federal narcotic agents yesterday, after they had suspected him of being a drug peddler.

Webb's "office" are along the levee, and he told the agents he always lived there. An informer reported he had used a marked 50-cent piece to buy drugs from Webb yesterday. Then the narcotic agents swooped around the corner. Webb saw them coming, they reported, and hurried the half-dollar from the top of the levee out into the Mississippi River, destroying evidence of a sale. No drugs were found on him.

However, agents found an old shoe in a nearby hallway, in which were concealed several packages of drugs. They could not establish any connection between Webb and the old shoe. He was held over night, but was released today.

TAX ON LIGHTS TO AID POOR

Users of Electricity and Gas in Berlin to Pay Higher Rates.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Sept. 29.—Berlin's bright lights are to be used as a source of revenue to provide money to tide the city's poor over the winter. Assistance for the homes where only candles and oil lamps are burned will come from the users of electricity and gas.

The prices of these two commodities are to be increased sufficiently to provide a fund of 200,000,000 marks. Eighty millions of this sum will be used for the care of needy children, and the balance for general welfare work. The relief measures include feeding centers, reductions in the price of milk sold to poor families, and contributions to infants' homes and asylums.

INSURANCE FIRM INSOLVENT

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 9.—Ben C. Hyde, State Commissioner of Insurance, announced today that the Insurance Department has ordered closed the Midwest Town Mutual Fire Insurance Co. at Kansas City, which, he said, is insolvent. The company, he asserted, ceased writing insurance about 10 days ago. Attorney-General Barrett has been asked by the insurance company to make application for a receiver for the concern in Kansas City.

The Midwest Town Mutual Fire Insurance Co. was licensed Jan. 6, 1929. C. L. Hilland is president and A. Middleworth secretary.

Commences today with a Gift from Your Grocer

This is a most important week for every woman who takes pride in her table and wants to provide her family with the best and most wholesome home baking.

The New Royal Cook Book

The latest authority on all that is best in home baking—Free

Shows how to make Biscuits such as you never even dreamed of; Cake creations almost beyond your imagination; Griddle Cakes that make breakfast an event. The recipes that you have so often longed for are all in the New Royal Cook Book. For instance here are recipes for the famous Royal Biscuits and Royal Hot Griddle Cakes:

Royal Biscuits

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
3/4 cup milk or half milk and half water
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt, add shortening and rub in very lightly; add liquid slowly; roll or pat on floured board to about one inch in thickness (handle as little as possible); cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Royal Hot Griddle Cakes

2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoons shortening
Mix and sift dry ingredients; add milk and melted shortening; beat well. Bake on slightly greased hot griddle—batter must be thin. Cakes should be small and not too thick—about one-eighth inch when baked. An iron frying pan may be used; grease only enough to keep cakes from sticking. Turn only once.

During "Royal" week a copy of the New Royal Cook Book will be presented by any grocer to every purchaser of the famous

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Moved the criticism that the "Democrat" party has nothing constructive to offer in the present campaign. Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee today issued the following statement by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi:

"The Democratic party does not campaign in the coming election on fault finding and clam but should it be entrusted with power in the coming election would stand for the following platform:

"To provide immediate repeal of the Fordney-McCumber tariff, the adjustable compensation tariff and the enactment of changes in the Underwood-Simmons tariff as will meet changed conditions of the times;

"To provide, by legislation, just to the American soldier;

CITIZEN UPHELD IN AUTO PARKING CASE

City Officials Say Police Stop Leaving Machine in Front of Home at Night.

Absence of prohibitory provisions in the city ordinances will make impossible, at this time, for police to prevent automobile owners from parking their cars in the street front of their homes over night, when police announced they would seek a complaint against a man who parked his car in front of his home over night.

The question was raised Saturday when police announced they would seek a complaint against a man who parked his car in front of his home over night. Police intend the practice is dangerous traffic, especially to the fire department. Supp is insisting the act is against his rights.

View of Provisional Judge. "No individual has pre-emptive rights in the street," William Pitt Bates, Provisional Judge of the City Court No. 2, said today.

In the absence of restrictions, as exist in the downtown court districts, I see no way in which fine may be assessed against a man. The police, in my opinion, are obliged either to seek an injunction on the ground that traffic is endangered or to have the act of the street at issue included in the time for parking automobiles.

William B. Homer, Judge of Court No. 1, agrees with Bates, only thing required of the individual owner who follows that provision is that he comply with the ordinance. He said, "My opinion has previously been sought on matter by someone, perhaps the same interested, and I then said as long as the lighting ordinance covered I saw no way for legal action to be made."

Repeals No Ordinance. Harry D. Evans, assistant city solicitor in charge of the legal complaints in Police Court No. 2, said today: "I recall no ordinance which we might proceed against a man, but if I am requested by police to issue a summons against him I will make a thorough investigation before deciding what to do."

No case. No case has been docketed at Supp in either Police Court.

Policies of the Democratic Party in Campaign for Coming Election Outlined by Senator Pat Harrison

Repeal of Fordney-McCumber Tariff and Compensation for Former Soldiers Among Things to Which Party Is Committed.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Moved by the criticism that the Democratic party has nothing constructive to offer in the present campaign, the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee today issued the following statement by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi:

"The Democratic party does not have its campaign in the coming election on a fault finding and criticism but, should it be entrusted with power in the coming election, it would stand for the following definite policies:

"The immediate repeal of the insupportable Fordney-McCumber tariff and the enactment of such changes in the Underwood-Simmons Democratic tariff as will meet the changed conditions of the times;

"For Justice to Soldiers.

"To provide, by legislation, justice to the American soldier;

"To provide a system of agricultural credits fitted to the peculiar needs of the American farmers and small men;

"To maintain our merchant marine at a high standard and to operate it most economically in the interest of the American people, without subsidy or special privileges to the shipping trusts;

"To appropriate adequately for the economic administration of the Government and to put a stop to the orgy of extravagance which prevails at the present time under the Republican administration;

"To conform in letter and in spirit to the budget system as originally conceived;

"To abolish useless jobs, eliminate unnecessary expenses and to reduce to a minimum the salaries fixed by the administration;

"To administer the civil service law in good faith and without fraud, deception or hypocrisy;

"To enact legislation providing for a fair and just reclamation policy;

"To bring about a better understanding between capital and labor and to see that the laboring man shall receive a fair deal, a living wage and reasonable working hours;

"To pass legislation not in the interest of a favored few, but of all the people;

"To simplify and revise the tax laws so that taxes may be imposed fairly and justly upon those best able to pay;

"To liberally aid good road construction and the improvement of our rivers and harbors;

"Would Help Farmers.

"To invoke the agricultural arm of the Government that the farmer may be helped to receive fair prices for their products and through the process of elimination of overhead costs and unnecessary expenses in distribution and marketing, reduce the cost of the product to the American consumer;

"To drive 'Newberyism' from the high places in which it is now enthroned, and by appropriate legislation to prevent corruption in politics and restore the 'rule of the people';

"To prevent members of the Congress in both houses from voting for their own selfish interest at the expense of the people;

"To bring about a return of our former high and commanding position in international affairs and inaugurate a better relationship with friendly nations;

"Policy as to Commerce.

"To lay out new lanes of trade and commerce and find new markets for our surplus agricultural and manufactured products;

"To supplant the present administration's policy of uncertainty and friction by one of courage and decision;

"To put a stop to our rapidly decreasing balance of trade and give impetus to our export trade, thereby bringing about a revival of business and expansion of our industries with resulting general prosperity among our people;

"To remove the strangle-hold of selfish interests on the throat of legitimate business and to restore equal opportunity to all alike."

CITIZEN UPHOLD IN AUTO PARKING CASE

City Officials Say Police Can't Stop Leaving Machine in Front of Home at Night.

Absence of prohibitory provisions in the city ordinance will make it impossible, at this time, for police to prevent automobile owners from parking their cars in the streets in front of their homes at night, it was held by the St. Louis Circuit Court today in a decision rendered by Judge J. H. Evers.

The question was raised Saturday when a complaint against Edgar E. Evers, 5801 Cates avenue, who has repeatedly parked his car in front of his home at night, was brought before the court by the city.

The ordinance is dangerous to the public, especially to the fire department, Supp is insisting that he be acting within his rights.

View of Provisional Judge.

"To individual property rights in the street," William M. Batten, Provisional Judge in City Court No. 2, said today. "But the absence of restrictions, such as exist in the downtown congested districts, I see no way in which a case may be assessed against this man. The police, in my opinion, will be obliged either to seek an injunction or to have the section of the street at issue included in a congested area with restrictions on the time for parking automobiles."

William B. Homer, Judge of City Court No. 1, agrees with Batten. "The only thing required of the automobile owner who follows that practice is that he comply with the ordinance regarding lights upon street obstructions," he said. "My opinion was previously sought on this matter by someone, perhaps the man from interested, and I then said that as the lighting ordinance was obeyed I saw no way for legal objections to be made."

Recalls No Ordinance.

Harry D. Evers, assistant city controller in charge of the issuance of complaints in Police Court cases, said: "I recall no ordinance under which we might proceed against this man, but if I am requested by the city I will make a summons against him before deciding what course to follow."

The case has been docketed against Supp in either Police Court.

EMPLOYMENT GAIN SHOWN IN 47 OF 65 INDUSTRY CENTERS

Optimistic Report by Department of Labor—St. Louis One of Cities Where Decline Is Noted.

SHORTAGE OF COMMON LABOR THREATENED

Situation Improved by Settlement of Strikes—Building Work Said to Be Going Forward Steadily.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
No. 20 Wyatt Building.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—An optimistic report on employment conditions throughout the country was issued for publication today by the Employment Service of the Department of Labor. Forty-seven out of 65 principal industrial centers had more employees on payrolls in September than in August. St. Louis was one of the cities showing a decline.

The falling off in St. Louis, according to a report by the Federal Reserve Board, was due to a shortage of fuel and railroad cars.

The Employment Service's data on 143 representative industrial concerns, each ordinarily employing more than 500 workers, showed an increase for the month of 28,668 employees. The most encouraging increase was in the railroad repair shops, which added 11,322 workers. All except four of the major industrial groups reflected employment gains. The exceptions were the automobile industry, liquor and beverage manufacture, the making of stone, clay and glass products, and the metal and metal products industry.

Building Going Forward.

Industrial employment in all parts of the country, the report says, has been accelerated by the adjustment of the coal and railroad ship shortages. Further improvement would have been made, it is added, but for the inadequate car and fuel supply. Building construction is said to be going forward steadily in all sections.

A threatened common labor shortage is seen as a sign of increased employment and prosperity. All indications, the report concludes, are that the elimination of transportation and fuel difficulties will "speed production and employment to a higher degree than has obtained since the war."

Summarizing reports from Missouri, the Employment Service says that industrial and employment conditions are maintaining the improvement previously noted. Building is said to be active all over the State. Other items reflecting the general improvement are decided gains in the industries affected by the coal strike, the employment of much common labor in extra work in building, overtime work in many important factories and the addition of workers in the packing industry. A shortage of both skilled and common labor is reported for the State.

Conditions in Missouri.

Conditions in the principal cities of the State are described as follows:

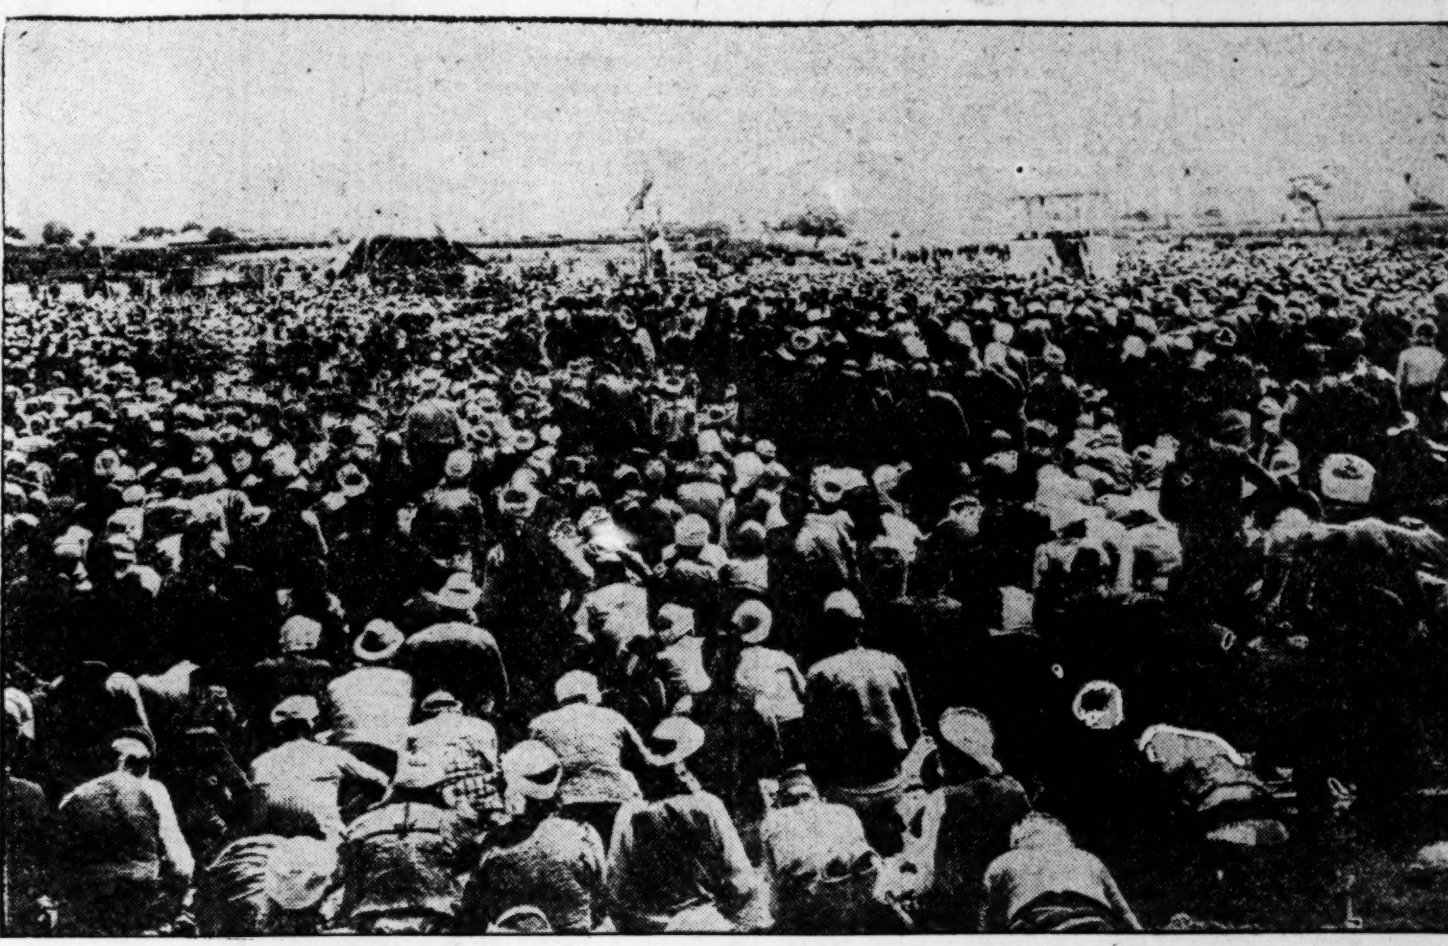

ST. LOUIS.—Employment holding to the levels of last month, with normal forces in practically all industries. Some gains are seen in industries affected by the coal strike and curtailed by lack of materials. Extensive building and highway programs are speeding up since the settlement of the coal controversy and the ensuing 30 days appear exceptionally bright. Notable increases in employment since last month are seen in meat packing, paper boxes, aluminum goods, leather, paper and printing, bags, furniture, lumber and millwork, knitting mills, cement products, automobiles, structural steel, wholesale groceries, books and stationery. Slight decline in public utilities and wholesale hardware.

GREATER KANSAS CITY.—Employment in the leading industries made decided gains immediately following the settlement of the coal strike. Construction companies, packing plants and other large employers of labor have increased forces considerably since last month, with further additions depending on the ability of the railroads to move material. Building continues active with a noticeable shortage of skilled labor. General farm help is in demand. Employment increase since August in the following: Meat packing, flour and cereal milling, radium, tents and awnings, photo supplies, automobiles, lumber and millwork, tire and rubber goods, pressed brick, musical instruments, iron and steel, macaroni, wholesale drugs, saddlery, wholesale dry goods. Slight decrease in employment in ice and cold storage plants, jewelry, agricultural implements, candy and confectionery.

ANTI-LLOYD GEORGE CAMPAIGN IN PRESS

Four Reviews and One Sunday Newspaper Demand That He Quit.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The latest phases of the Near-Eastern crisis have been accompanied by the growth of a political and newspaper campaign against David Lloyd George, the British Prime Minister, which reached its climax when the four leading weekly reviews and one of the Premier's staunchest supporters among the Sunday newspapers joined in a demand for his resignation.

This campaign has far surpassed in its widespread extent and apparent influence any of the similar campaigns which the Premier, during the troubled post-war period has had to meet. What has distinguished the present campaign from all the previous ones is that it is not confined to the Premier's natural political enemies, but embraces solid organs of public opinion of all political shades.

The basis of the charges against Lloyd George is that his strong pro-Greek policy brought the nation to the brink of war, which was averted in the first place only through the statesmanship and diplomacy of Lord Curzon, Foreign Secretary.

Bryan on Political Speeches.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 9.—William Jennings Bryan's voice will begin to thunder again in Nebraska politics today when he starts on his "whirlwind" tour in the interests of the candidacy of Senator Hitebeck to succeed himself in the United States Senate and of Charles W. Bryan, the "Commoner's" brother, candidate for the governorship of the Democratic ticket. Bryan will speak in five of the six congressional districts.

CITIZENS' BUREAU OF MUNICIPAL RESEARCH TO STUDY PUBLIC AFFAIRS

New Organization Plans to Co-Operate With People and Officeholders in Eliminating Waste and Increasing Efficiency.

Organization of a Citizens' Bureau of Municipal Research has been completed by a group of St. Louis business men, with the announced purpose of co-operating with citizens and officeholders in increasing the effectiveness of municipal government and to act as an agency of citizen inquiry in studying public affairs as business problems.

Membership of the bureau comprises member banks of the St. Louis Clearing House Association, the Real Estate Exchange, business and professional men. The organizers, in announcing the movement today, said it carried the endorsement of the Associated Retailers.

Dr. Jesse D. Burks, formerly connected with the Bureau of Municipal Research in New York City, has been engaged to direct the work of the new organization.

To Serve Common Interests.

Paul Bakewell Jr., an attorney, chairman of the executive committee of the bureau, said the object of the organization will be to serve the common interests of the city, through its research, enabling citizens to pass intelligent judgment on public affairs and aiding officeholders to give the most effective service.

"It is not the object of the bureau to engage in uninformed or hostile criticism of the municipal government," Bakewell said, "but to induce the citizen to accept his share of responsibility for the success or failure of the city government, and the officer to accept his obligation to present a full and accurate account of his stewardship."

Will Study Tax Problems.

Bakewell outlined financial problems to receive immediate consideration by the Bureau of Municipal Research, in the following statement:

"The tax burdens of St. Louis have increased steadily and substantially in recent years. This tendency was hastened by a higher assessed valuation last year and by an increased tax rate this year. Unless shown to be necessary and reasonable, such increases result in unrest and dissatisfaction on the part of the tax payers.

"The available revenues of the city are fixed mainly by the State law which limits the property tax for general municipal purposes to a maximum of $1.35 per $100 of assessed valuation. This limit has now been almost reached, in spite of the fact that the city's income for general purposes in 1920-21 was $1,000,000 less than its actual expenditures.

"This situation is, of course, due to many causes, partly to increased cost of service and supplies, the expansion of municipal activities in response to growth in population and the demand of the community for more and better service. Such conditions merely emphasize the importance of a united effort on the part of the citizens and officials to get the largest possible value in service for every dollar expended by the city departments. Only in this way

RED AND WHITE ARMIES IN SIBERIA FIGHTING

Battle on Spassk Front Most Severe Since Japanese Evacuation.

By the Associated Press.
VLADIVOSTOK, Oct. 9.—Desperate fighting between the "Red" and "White" armies is in progress on the Spassk front. The battle is the most severe recorded since the Japanese evacuation began.

The Soviet forces are reported rushing troops, with aeroplanes and tanks toward Vladivostok. The defenders are offering furious opposition.

In a letter to banking institutions, Mellon asked continued co-operation for the distribution of the new bonds among investors, declaring the time had come for a longer term operation in the refunding of the short dated debt, which heretofore has been accomplished without disturbance to the market for outstanding securities on a relatively short term basis.

Statement on Public Debt.

Discussing that has already been accomplished in the refunding of the short dated debt, Mellon recalled that on April 30, 1921, when the refunding program was announced, the gross public debt amounted to $24,000,000, of which over $7,000,000 was maturing within two years, while on Sept. 30, 1922, the total debt was $22,500,000 and about $4,000,000 of the early maturing debt has been retired or refunded.

This fiscal year, he stated, there will be about $25,000,000 of War Savings certificates, and about $1,100,000,000 of Treasury certificates, of which $45,000,000 represent Pittman term certificates which were being refunded this year through the redemption of silver bullion, while about $106,000,000 of loan certificates maturing Oct. 16, 1922, will be paid out of funds already in hand.

Retirement of these matured certificates, he added, will leave only tax certificates outstanding and with tax payments as large as they are it is considered desirable for the Treasury to have outstanding at least $1,000,000,000 of tax certificates, which correspondingly reduces the amount of necessary refunding into other securities.

The Next Maturing.

After the next maturities fall due Dec. 15, and include about $70,000,000 4 1/2 per cent Victory notes called for redemption and about $450,000,000 of maturing tax certificates against which the Treasury will receive in December about $250,000,000 of income and profits taxes.

On Jan. 1, 1923, he said, $425,000,000 of War Savings certificates become payable, but special facilities for their exchange for the new Treasury savings certificates are to be announced shortly while the only Treasury certificates maturing in the second half of the fiscal year 1922 are about $250,000,000 on March 15, 1923, and about $275,000,000 on June 15, 1923, both of which are covered by the income and profits tax payments estimated for those dates. On May 20, 1923, he added, the remaining $325,000,000 of the 4 1/2 per cent Victory notes mature.

NEW BAR ASSOCIATION HEAD

Nelson B. Layman of Duquoin Elected by Southern Illinois Body.

Nelson B. Layman, an attorney of Duquoin, was elected president of the Southern Illinois Bar Association, at the final session of the annual meeting of the association Saturday at Belleville. Judge William H. Hart of Benton was elected vice president, and Judge H. R. Dial of West Frankfort, secretary-treasurer. Benton was selected as the next convention city. About 250 members from 34 counties of the State attended the annual meeting.

A resolution was presented by Circuit Judge G. A. Crew recommending the Illinois Supreme Court the candidates for the bar be required to have the equivalent of a high school education and two years in college before being admitted to the examination.

In other cities where the experiment has been tried, Bakewell added, "shows that efficiency is obtained by using the same methods in public business as have been found necessary in private business; by methods which put a premium on economy, efficiency and fidelity and a discount on waste, inefficiency and dishonesty. The work of these bureaus further has indicated that unsatisfactory results in municipal government are due largely to poor organization and wrong methods, and that the citizen is quite as truly responsible for these conditions as the officeholder who is elected by the citizens."

Other members of the Executive Committee are L. Wade Childress, president of the Columbia Terminal Co., secretary; Daniel K. Catlin, president of the Security Building Co.; W. F. Gephart, vice president of the First National Bank; R. McKittick Jones, O. J. McCaskey of the Nobles, McCaskey Realty Co. and president of the Real Estate Exchange; Morton May, president of the Famous-Barr Co. and president of the Associated Retailers; Frederick B. Semple of Fisher, Semple & Co.; Edward J. Walsh, and M. E. Singleton, president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co.

Comptroller Nellie said he welcomed the establishment of a research bureau. He was ready to place all the records of his department at the disposal of the research workers, and to provide room in his office for the work. The city would benefit through the suggestions and advice from the bureau, he believed.

Tax Increase Problem.

"How to provide the really necessary improvements and to meet the permanent cost of their operations and maintenance without a well-nigh prohibitive increase in municipal taxes is a question of vital importance to every citizen, to administrative officers and to members of the Board of Aldermen.

"Briefly, it is the purpose of the bureau, as an agency of citizen inquiry and co-operation, to study public business as a business problem; to give to citizens and to public officers accurate information regarding work done, results accomplished and cost of service, and to co-operate actively with officers and citizens in increasing the effectiveness of the municipal government. Conclusions will in all cases be based on facts. Constructive criticism and suggestion will be made without color, without prejudice and without fear or favor.

"The bureau undertakes this program with an open mind and with the encouraging assurance that similar organizations have been of great value to citizens and public officers in other cities of the United States. The bureau invites and expects the co-operation of the Mayor and heads of city departments. It hopes to turn to represent as helpfully as it may the interests of all citizens, public officers and civic organizations who are concerned to make of the city government of St. Louis a more and more effective agency for promoting and protecting the health, safety, education, recreation, convenience, prosperity and happiness of its 300,000 citizens."

Success in Other Cities.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR AMERICAN CHILDREN

Columbus Walked From Court to Court Seeking Funds to Carry Out His Great Plan of Discovery.

The King was driving the Moors out of Spain.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

In the year 1478 Columbus married Felipa Moniz de Perestre. The lady was the daughter of Bartholomew Perestrelo, who had been a Captain in the service of Prince Henry the Navigator, and who had been the first Governor of the African colony of Porto Santo. The Perestrelo family was well connected. The Archbishop of Lisbon was a cousin of Columbus' wife.

You will see how all these things worked together for the ultimate benefit of Columbus. He inherited all the papers and nautical notes of his father-in-law. He visited the colony where old Perestrelo had been Governor and interviewed his former associates. Through his cousin, the Archbishop, he had access to the royal school of astronomy. More and more he became convinced that there must be a way of reaching the Indies by sailing due west.

Theoretically this was all very well. But how about the practical side? Where could Columbus find the ships and the men and the money necessary for such a dangerous expedition? He went to King Joao of Portugal and explained his ideas. The King referred the matter to a council of famous geographers. They advised him not to have anything to do with Columbus, but to continue the work of Henry the Navigator and look for the Indian route by way of the western and southern coast of Africa.

Then Columbus bethought himself of the neighboring Kingdom of Spain.

In Spain, King Ferdinand was at that moment driving the last Moorish invaders from his domains. He was ready to encourage the foreign glory of his estates in any way that might prove practicable.

Discouraged by the reception of his ideas in Lisbon, Columbus packed his small trunk. His wife had died, he had not been a great success in a financial way, and was obliged to make a living for himself and his small son Diego by drawing maps and charts. He left Portugal and went to Spain. For several years he lived with the Duke of Medina Celi, who was interested in his ideas.

At last Columbus was allowed to lay his plans before King Ferdinand and his wife, the Queen Isabella. As they did not know much about navigation, they referred the whole matter to a committee of which the Queen's confessor was the chairman. This dignitary did not believe the scheme to be possible. For even granted that the world was round (and people were by no means certain of this in the year 1491) then how could you hope to sail back once you had sailed down the slopes of our little globe? It seemed a sheer waste of money, and the committee advised that no support be given to the Genoese adventurer. Columbus departed and thought of leaving Spain. But when he was already on his way to France or England (he did not know where he should turn next for help), the Cardinal Pedro Gonzalez de Mendoza heard of the navigator and his Indian projects. He offered to assist him.

VARIETY AND JAZZ ON MOVIE BILLS

Modern Vamp Succeeds Theda
Bara and Wally Reid Breaks Ghosts—"The Storm" Is Powerful.

JUST to show that she is not a "has been," the "vamp" comes back in the 1922 version of "A Fool There Was," the feature attraction at the Liberty this week. To movie fans this is a matter of interest as it gives an opportunity to compare this latest version with the one which started Theda Bara on her lurid career. Again William Fox is the producer. He left not a shred of the old film and he picked a woman as far as possible from the Bara type. The current "vamp" is Estelle Taylor, an actress so sweet and wholesome that it required all the art of make-up to fit her for the role of "the woman who did not care." The man in the case is Lewis Stone. The production is most lavishly staged. Some of the interior settings have such great breadth and perspective that they seem out of proportion to the importance of the story, which after all points only to the obvious moral that a man is a fool to leave his devoted wife and family for a "love pirate." In the role of the man Stone is convincing only in so far as he points the moral. He certainly does not adorn the tale. Miss Taylor relies mainly on her large, liquid eyes as a medium for her vampery. They are normally honest, straightforward eyes and her effort to make them wicked and alluring is at times visibly painful. Seemingly it was realized after the production was under way that the type of vamping essayed by Miss Taylor would not account for the rapid dissolution of her victim, and so, the simple device of having him take to drink was hit upon. Brandy is the real "vamp" of the 1922 version.

"The Storm" at the Delmonte. Frequent applause such as flesh-and-blood actors get was given by spectators of the film play at the Delmonte Theater yesterday. People seemed to like "The Storm," which is filmed from Langdon McCormick's drama of the same title. Some who have seen the play itself were heard to declare that in their opinion the picture version surpasses the original in dramatic thrill.

As to spectacularity, the great forest fire supplies that. The flames are colored, just like the real article. The fire sweeps on with terrible force. It overwhelms the cabin, but the members of the eternal triangle escape by fighting their way through the flames. The right man gets the girl.

"Ghost Breakers" at the Missouri. Wallace Reid and Lila Lee have a rather light and whimsical, but satisfying offering in "The Ghost Breakers" at the Missouri. Here also there is an excellent musical attraction, Yerkes' Flotilla band which plays jazz and classical music with equal facility and with such fine musicianship that there are insistent demands for more even after generous encore responses.

On the program also is a revival of one of Mack Sennett's early comedies, "Salome vs. Shenandoah," with Charlie Murray, Ben Turpin and Marie Prevost in the cast.

"Kindred of the Dust." Miriam Cooper, Ralph Graves are the leading players in a smart and brilliantly staged film version of Peter B. Kyne's story, "Kindred of the Dust" at the New Grand Central. The work of Graves stands out here. He is cast to even better advantage than he was in Griffith's "Dream Street."

A special feature is the stage appearance of Gene Rodemich, a piano trio made up of Rodemich, David Silverman and Allister Wylie.

"Barthelmess" "The Bond Boy." When a cinema magnate has often to his own surprise—succeeded in producing a highly successful picture, he generally follows it up with another which is designed to ride the wave of its predecessor's popularity. Thus did "Deception" follow "Passion"; thus did "Burning Sands" come after "The Sheikh"; and thus, no less, does Richard Barthelmess' "The Bond Boy" attempt to realize upon the richly deserved eminence of his "To-able David." It is being shown this week at the West End Lyric and Capitol Theaters.

Nevertheless, "The Bond Boy" cannot be summarily dismissed as counterfeit—indeed, did it not lean so palpably upon its forerunner, it could be called a good, if not a great, picture. Its obvious defect, aside from that, is the absence of dramatic force. The settings, laid in the backwoods of Missouri, are rich in color, and the characterization, if lacking the extraordinary verisimilitude of "To-able David," is faithful. Barthelmess, one of the finest of screen actors, undoubtedly found his meter in the character of rural youth, and in "The Bond Boy" he gives a notably fine piece of work. An unusually accurate glimpse as to a familiar side of American psychology is shown when the community turns out with shotguns and bloodhounds to hunt down an 18-year-old boy. This aspect of our sportsmanship is known to those who have seen mous or prize-fight audiences. In this case it was a legally formed posse.

Old Water Mill Discovered.
The remains of an old water mill believed to be more than 100 years old were discovered yesterday in the bed of Richland Creek on the Sam Ripley farm near Belleville by laborers clearing the creek channel of debris and driftwood. The water mill, despite the fact that it was imbedded in the bottom of the creek, is in a good state of preservation. The timbers are good and even the old wooden pins used to hold the timbers together are in good shape.

SAY "BAYER" when you buy Aspirin

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headache, toothache, earache, neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacetic-acidester of Salicylicacid.

THE FIRST SHOEMAKING SHOP IN NEW ENGLAND

Established at Danvers, Mass., on the estate where Gen. Putnam—"Old Put"—of Revolutionary fame—was born. About the year 1750 master craftsmen began establishing shops like this, where they turned out an excellent quality of work. The shop at Danvers contains benches, tools and also several books, including a Bible. The American craftsman in those days valued education quite as much as his successors do today.

Pity the neighborhood without its Good Shoe Repairman

MOST of us at some time or other have rushed into a shoe repairman's shop with a pair of shoes to be "fixed up in a few hours."

Probably a dozen other people the same day in the same shop made the same request.

Emergency jobs—no wonder the shoe repairman's tradition is that of the great trouble man of the community!

Then take the time when rubber heels were coming on the market.

Give the shoe repairman full credit for being the true rubber heel missionary.

He gave you the chance to try out rubber heels on an old pair of shoes.

At first he used any type of rubber heel.

Then, with experience, standards of quality began to arise.

The United States Rubber Company applied a higher degree of science—the last word in rubber compounding—to rubber heel making, and brought out the U. S. Spring-Step Rubber Heel.

Made by the United States Rubber Company—growers, manufacturers, and distributors of rubber and its products—the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world.

Whether you personally specify U. S. Spring-Step Heels or not—you are likely to find them on your shoes if you have your work done by a good shoe repairman.

Give him credit again for this fresh evidence of his feeling of responsibility.

McGrawmen Met Every Crisis and Excelled Foe in All Departments of Game

Completely Upset Batter Could Have Safe Hit Off Him.

By Heywood Brown.
(Copyright, 1922.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Now that it is over, the experts are completely confounded. In every department of the game except superiority in defense is merely a matter of figures and not actual. Whenever a brilliant defensive play was needed, the Giants made it. Their errors came in off moments. The manner in which the team rose to every crisis was uncanny.

And yet we are not at all sure that McGraw could not change teams with Huggins and reverse the result. We are not certain that McGraw could win with the Yankees, but we feel confident that Huggins could lose with the Giants. Huggins could lose with anybody.

Of course it is a little unfair to say on Huggins at a time when he has already done a good deal of damage. He had the misfortune to have decisions which seemed shrewd and logical beforehand go wrong. There was such an incident yesterday. The game hung upon it.

When the last half of the eighth inning began the Yankees had a lead of one run. But as usual the Giants rallied. Presently Huggins was confronted with the following situation: There was a Giant on third, one on second, two out. Young had just pitched to Young, Huggins came running out of the dugout and signaled the pitcher to pass him and take a chance on Kelly. This seemed reasonable strategy. Up to that point, the time Young had made six hits in the series and Kelly had made three. "I'd play that fellow," said Nick Altrock, who was sitting just behind me. "I think that's right," agreed Matty.

Joe Bush Objected.

But for some personal and emotional reason Joe Bush didn't want to pass Young. He roared an objection across the diamond at Huggins. The manager was obdurate and he paid no heed to Bush's long-distance arguments.

We could not hear what the Yankee pitcher said, but his face was distorted in anger. At last he resigned himself to obey orders and now he tore a tragic mask. Something in him seemed to have snapped. Perhaps he heard the flapping of the wings of fate, or maybe he was whistling of a base hit storm.

Dejectedly he tossed four wide ones to Young and then he started to pitch to Kelly. He shot over a bad one and Kelly let it go. The big Giant swung at the next ball and hammered a clean single to center which cleared both runners.

The hit put the Giants in the lead and except for the perfunctory formality of finishing the game the championship was theirs.

We are profiting by the second news, but Huggins was wrong even if he did have figures and logic. If Christy Mathewson and Nick Altrock were on his side, Bush wanted to pitch to Young. Somehow or other the thing had become vital to him.

Maybe if Huggins could have held up the game along enough to consult a psycho-analyst the doctor might have been able to explore Joe's subconscious mind and show him the unreasonableness of his desire. Possibly Bush, who frightened him by a Kelly when he was a boy. Whatever the reason for his conviction, it was much too deep for Huggins to dismiss it with a wave of one finger.

Stomped on Joe's Ego.

In thwarting Bush he broke his will and will was the factor which was carrying the Yankee pitcher along. A bad stonebruiser on his heel was giving him no end of trouble. But there were no sore spots on his confidence. Huggins stomped on Joe's ego, which is the place where a pitcher's most. The pitcher was rattled before he pitched a single ball to Kelly.

And for that matter, the intentional pass to Young complicated the picture by vitally affecting the psychology of George Kelly. The contempt of Huggins for his hitting ability may have been just the fillip which he needed to make him effective. It may well be that the Yankee manager unmade his own pitcher and made the opposing batter by one and the same move. Anyhow, Kelly played and the game was lost.

At the end of the inning we liked Huggins better than we have ever before. Coming into the dugout Bush snarled at his manager. He must have said, "You did that," or words to that effect. Huggins nodded. He was willing to take the responsibility.

Now, as a matter of fact, McGraw controls the moves of his men on the field more closely than any other manager in the business. He plays the whole game, but they yield to his movement without difficulty because he is able to inspire them with the belief that he is right.

McGraw is baseball's Belasco. When he removes a player's initiative the operation is painless because he immediately puts his own place. Huggins doesn't begin to possess enough initiative even for Belasco's requirements. He is not up to playing Wellington to McGraw's decision.

BALTIMORE WINS THIRD GAME OF SERIES FROM ST. PAUL TEAM, 13-10

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 9.—After a game uphill fight in which they overcame a five-run lead, which St. Paul of the American Association pulled up in the third inning, the Baltimore club of the International League won the third game of the little world's series here yesterday, 13 to 10. The contest was witnessed by a capacity crowd, there being 14,093 paid admissions.

Joe Sheehan of the Saints and Jack Bentley of the Orioles, considered the pitching ace of the rivals, started on the mound and both were driven to the showers. Bentley was touched for six hits in the third, including homers out of the park by Golvin and Drexler. The Orioles came right back in the third with a four-run rally, which put them within one run of the victors. In the next inning they continued pounding the ball at the expense of Rogers, who had relieved Sheehan in the third. A homer by Bishop of the Orioles, in the fourth with two on the bases, was the blow which clinched the game for Baltimore.

Fielding features were furnished by Maisei, Boley and Christensen.

New York Wins, 5 to 0.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—That New York has a mighty good chance for the soccer championship this season was indicated at New York oval yesterday by the defeat of the Philadelphia football club in the first round of the American Soccer League by a score of 5 to 0.

What the Yankees Needed Was Some Traffic Policemen to Tell Them When It Was O.K. to Run

Lardner Concludes That if There Is to Be Any Fur Coat It Will Have to Be Made Out of Contributed Plush Covers From Family Albums.

By Ring Lardner.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Well boys it looks like it was all over and the only complaint I have got to make is the traffic regulations was not handled right. The next time the Yankees takes part in a world series they should ought to have a traffic policeman stationed between first and second base and another traffic policeman stationed between home and first. The former should tell the boys when it is O. K. to run to second. And the latter must inform them that when a ground ball is hit to the infield in a world series the general theory which has never been disproved is to run on high speed to first base which is the base towards right field from the home plate.

The lack of a adequate stop and go system is what lost this series on the part of the Yanks. The final game of the series was marked by the only incidence of brains exhibited by the Yanks during the whole series. In the 24th inning with two boys on the bases and one out Joe Bush passed Arthur Nehf to 1st base so as to get the head of the batting order up and not confuse the official scorers. This bit of thinking probably was responsible for nothing.

I will not try and dilute on the rest of the series only to say that Charles A. Hughes and Eddie Batchelor of Detroit spent this a. m. in the Bronx zoo to try and see more animals. It is hard to satisfy the boys from Detroit.

Interesting "Incidence."

All as I know what to write about on an occasion like this is little incidence that come off. The 1st incidence that call to mine is in regards to Tommy Rice of the Brooklyn Eagle. Tommy wrote 7000 words in regards to the 1st game of the series and page by page it blew out of the window in the costly apartment building in which Brooklyn experts lives. There is no telling what the loss to the world is on account of not being able to read Tommy's story to say nothing about the readers of the Eagle.

Now boys I suppose they is a few interested in whether the little woman is going to get a costly fur coat. The other day I wrote a story to the general effects that we was going to kill our cats and use their fur to make the costly. This story was not appreciated in the heavily mortgaged home. After a long argument the master of the house compromised and decided to not doom the little members of the fanny tribe to death. Instead of that we are going to use a deer furnished by the same Eddie Batchelor of Detroit mentioned a few thousands words ago.

off of the covers and send it to the undersigned and make a plush coat which everybody tells me is the most fashionable fur on the green footstool. The little woman can wear plush and a specially the red pigment but black and tan plush covers will be welcome and this man tells theys nothing more attractive than a black and red and tan blocked coat made out of plush albums.

I was going to say further in regards to the plush albums but Harry Frazee has just butted in with the story of his life. It seems like when Harry was a young man in Peoria his father said to him if you don't be wild and go into the theatrical business and stay around Peoria you will be as big a man as your uncle. So Harry looked at his uncle who was getting $125 per month starting at books. "Well," says Harry, "I can get more than that catching runaway horses." So he is now catching runaway horses and selling them to the New York baseball club.

As I now sit here and write I am surrounded by a corps of experts just as ignorant as me and they don't seem to be none of them able to tell who is going to pitch tomorrow. Personally I think it will be Col. Ruppert and Huston.

CENTRE COLLEGE ELEVEN UNHAMPERED BY LOSS OF TWO OF STAR PLAYERS

By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 9.—Recourse to the old fashioned line smashing was forced upon football teams by the rains of the week that left the gridiron soggy last Saturday. The weather also broke up aerial attacks more effectively than any coach ever taught his fastest players to do, and resultant scores were smaller than usual.

In the two intercollegiate games where Southern teams held members of the "Big Three" to unusually low totals the weather worked a rard-ship on the lighter Dixie eleven. Virginia which fought a consistent battle against Princeton, was unable, because of the fumbling and slipping of the Tar Heels, to threaten advance and the 6-to-0 victory of the Tigers resulted from a field goal and a safety, both following fumbles.

Yale's weight came in handy in its contest with North Carolina University for the fast running attack of the Tar Heels was held to 27 to 0 by the heavy going under foot. The final score was 18 to 0 for the Blue as against 44 to 3 victory a year ago.

The University of Chicago, which downed Princeton last year, was held for two periods by Georgia before the Maroon backs began to smash through the Cracker line for a final 20-to-0 victory. Pennsylvania University was held to 27 to 0 by Sewanee, neither team showing well because of the rain.

North Carolina State held Davidson and Lee to 14-6 and Davidson let Georgia Tech down with a 12-to-0 victory against 70 to 0 a year ago. Centre, apparently unhampered by the loss of Shadon and Gordy, continued its onward sweep, rolling up 55 to 0 against Mississippi University, but Auburn, which must face the Army a week hence, took things light and was content with a 29-to-6 victory over Spring Hill, Vanderbilt, which meets its old time foe, Michigan, next Saturday, rolled up 13 to 0 against Henderson-Brown. Alabama downed Oglethorpe, 41 to 9. The other major eleven performed as well except for Louisiana State University which went down 7 to 0 before Loyola.

Firpo Knocks Out Tracey in Fourth

Terrific Right to Jaw Puts Australian Heavy Down for Count.

By the Associated Press.
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 9.—Luis Angel Firpo, champion heavyweight of South America, yesterday afternoon knocked out Jim Tracey, the Australian fighter, in the fourth round.

There was practically an even give and take in the first two rounds. Firpo's superior strength and punching ability showed in the third round in which he had considerable advantage.

In the fourth he landed a hard right and left to the head, and Tracey went to the floor, where he remained until the count of nine. He was badly dazed when he got to his feet again, and a terrific right to the jaw knocked him out.

About 20,000 persons saw the fight.

The Service Rendered by Efficiency in Gasoline Production

THE man who fills his tank at a Service Station, or feeds his tractor from a tank wagon, may not realize it but sheer efficiency on the part of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is to a large degree the reason why the gasoline is there when he wants it.

Oil News says: "During the winter 1921-1922 the majority of the refineries in the Mid-Continent field were idle. This was due largely to the fact that they could not refine and sell at a profit. They were in a way inefficient. Many could not operate. Others that might have operated could not get the crude. The large plants could and did finance themselves and sold some of their output as they made it at a profit."

Keen efficiency—in small, as well as in big things, has enabled the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to refine and sell petroleum products at a fair profit, under the most competitive of business conditions.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has 1600 competitors in the Middle West.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) efficiency runs through every operation. It governs the appointment of executives. It selects oil men of long training and experience who know when and what type of crude to buy. It directs the style of machinery, the kind of stills to be used. It determines the various products to be refined from the crude so that there may be no waste of oil, effort, time or overhead.

This efficiency, and the confidence which the public places in it, enables the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to maintain its position as the leader in the industry. It enables the management to plan for the future with confidence, and to keep its refineries going during periods of low consumption that it may be in position to meet adequately the unusual demands during periods of greater consumption.

It is this efficiency which has spotted the country with bulk and service stations and caused more than 6600 motor tank wagons to traverse the streets and highways supplying the people everywhere with first quality petroleum products at prices which are fair.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) submits that such efficient management is the essential basis of the valuable service it renders.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

The young fellows and the young fellows' fathers

Many and many a father and son are wearers of Losse custom tailored clothes.

Aside from the perfect fitting qualities of custom clothes—the long service from hand tailoring and fine woollens—age and youth and personality find no restrictions when from the cloth itself the garments are fashioned to the man.

Fathers bring their sons around because they want the young chaps to have the good things of life, but have them without extravagance. And things are evened up by many of the young fellows bringing in their dads.

UNTERMYER ADVISES COMMITTEE TO DEMAND HISTORY OF ROADS

New Step in Missouri Pacific and Western Pacific Fight for Denver & Rio Grande Control.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The contest for the control of the reorganization of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad took a new turn yesterday when the Richard Sutro Committee, organized in the interests of the security holders, issued a call for holders of the road's first and refunding 5-per-cent and cumulative adjustment 7-per-cent bonds to deposit them with the committee, as well as certificates of deposit for securities that had been deposited with either the Perkins or Hammond committees. The Missouri Pacific and Western Pacific railroads, which connect with the Denver & Rio Grande, each are seeking control of the reorganization of the road. Sutro said, without regard for the interest of the security holders.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Sutro committee, has addressed the committee, to insist on the Denver & Rio Grande defaulting on the next payment on the road's consolidated bonds, in order that the sale of a large block of Utah Fuel Co. stock today, held by the road, may be forced and the proceeds used to reduce prior liens on the road in the interests of the refunding and adjustment bondholders. He also advised the committee to apply to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a public hearing and investigation of the entire Denver & Rio Grande, Western Pacific and Missouri Pacific history and inter-relationships, past and present. Application will be made, it was announced, for the Sutro committee certificates of deposits to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

325 Taken in New Orleans Raids.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 3.—Three hundred and twenty-five prisoners, including many women, were taken in raids conducted by the police Saturday night and early yesterday on cabarets, poolrooms, gambling houses and other establishments in a city wide "cleanup" campaign instituted a week ago by the police. The total arrests is now about 1000.

GIRLS, OR PRIZE WINNERS, IN PARIS

This quintet of vocal students won the annual prizes of the Conservatoire of Paris, at Fontainebleau, having sung the pretty little royal theater built at the order of Louis.

Left to right: Miss Berkey of Pittsburg, Pa., first honorable mention for singing the "letter scene" from "Werther"; Miss Hiles of Mason City, Iowa, second prize in opera for singing from "Faust"; Miss Gertrude Courtney of Springfield, C., first prize in opera for singing an aria from the "Faust"; Mrs. Tess Davidson of Sioux City, Iowa, first prize in opera for singing an aria from "Manon"; and Mrs. Norton-Harris of New York, first prize in opera (the first prize in this class) for singing an aria from "Faust".

OYSTER FOLDS

RAIN as many oysters as you can get. Be sure to have a good towel. Prepare a rich cream sauce. Make a good oyster not too rich and short, and six-inch squares. Fill each with the oyster and sauce and fold it over in a triangle, pinching the edges to hold. Gravy and pickling the top three times. Place the folded oysters in a buttered baking pan and bake.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

"Everything About the House Helps to Make the Home"

By WANDA BARTON

Solving Some Big Mending Problems in Little Ways

THE old saying that the "stitch in time saves nine" may well be applied in many ways to keeping up with home needs. There is nothing more annoying than to have a shoestring break on a hurried morning and realize that it is the only one in the house. You remember the last time the thing happened, strings were taken from old shoes to supply the deficiency. Instead of buying only one pair at a time, why not buy half a dozen pairs? The trouble would then be averted. Best of all, watch the strings and change them before they reach the breaking-point.

Have a mending-day now and then, and do not wait to get a garment on before realizing that it lacks a button, hook, eye, tape or ribbon, or has a loose hem or a rent that should have been mended long since, but was forgotten.

Pillow-cases and sheet hems pressed flat at the laundry do not disclose the need of a few stitches until they are about to be set up on the bed, then they must be removed and others put on, or time must be taken for a hurried mending while other things wait.

Table linens are just as bad. We have all had the embarrassment of offering a guest, perhaps a napkin with a torn hem or a tear in it, or at the last second have had to move a dolly or dish over a break in a tablecloth that should have been darned before the last laundering. These things are not catastrophes designed especially to make you miserable, but just the natural wear and tear of everyday commodities, which must be looked out for in the same way that you would look after a broken-down fire-grate or a leaky boiler.

Curtains, also, need watching for breaks and tears. They may catch in the window or screen or blow in the open window and get torn in a half-dozen ways, but the stitch taken when needed will keep the damage from becoming unsightly. If we keep our eyes open the next time we are in a smart city hotel we may meet an efficient-looking woman dressed in black, looking about with keen, observing eyes. Sometimes she has a little notebook. Again, a maid is with her. This is the housekeeper, and she is doing just what you should do—looking out for home needs. We never think about a hotel needing a housekeeper—a good hotel always seems to keep so new-looking—but if the hotel housekeeper relaxed her watchfulness for a week guests and visitors would be conscious of an unaccustomed shabbiness in the surroundings. Onlookers are just as conscious of your carelessness, did you but know it, and one or two oversights discovered would bring our housekeeper's pride tumbling about our ears if we could hear what the discoverer is thinking.

A tear may be an accident of a day, and a patch may mean to some persons a badge of premeditated poverty, yet there is honest thrift in the patch, and its presence is a sign of the observant housekeeper. Piece-bags are time-honored possessions that were dear to old-fashioned housewives, and they are useful today as in times gone by. One clever woman always insists upon the tailor sending home pieces of the material from the haberdashery, and when the accidental tear happens she is prepared. When the suit has become second or third best she has the vest cut up to re-enforce the seat, and the cuffs are turned. The suit is then cleaned and pressed, and becomes a rainy-day joy or an outing suit that saves better clothes.

This same woman religiously presses and mends the man's ties and prolongs their usefulness and decent appearance, a surprisingly long time. There are a number of millinery effects that stamp a woman as being shabby, such as a faded flower, a drooping bow, dusty velvet, shabby ribbon and broken or slipped ornaments. Don't forget that a man's straw hat needs brushing daily the same as his soft or stiff hats do.

The chief advantage in keeping children simply dressed is that they may in this way be kept in better order at less expense, thereby giving the impression of being well-dressed. A very wealthy woman was asked why she kept her little folks in simple linens, and she said: "So that I may keep them in order when they are small, and they may order what they want when they grow up."

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

Your Critics.

YOU may be numbered in the clan that wars on melancholy, though you must hustle, it's your plan to be jocular and jolly. While many sleepy-headed louts are wrapped in placid slumber, you rise at dawn, or thereabouts, to hoe the young cucumber. And, as you tend your flocks and herds, you voice a tuneful yodel that should be used by all the birds to serve them as a model. It rings across the countryside and drowns the auto's shrieking; but, are your critics satisfied, in pleasant praise speaking? Ah, no; they say your course is wrong, that to the dogs you're hasting, they claim you squander days in song, both time and talents wasting. Conversely, you may be as glum as people in a cloister; you may be sorrowful, and dumb as any well-bred oyster. Perhaps the frowns in your crowd will sidestep when they sight you, your frown is like a thundercloud, no gladness can delight you. And then your critics love to say: "My, isn't he a Tartar?" We can't see how he gets that way, his wife is just a martyr! Yes, though you go with a frown or song, your critics are undaunted, for they can still find something wrong, and that's the one thing wanted. Such folks are pretty much the same, from Timbuctoo to Flanders, your critics never cease their game, so prove their words are slanders. Just ramble on your placid way, where work or play employ you; the critic's bound to have his say, but why should that annoy you?

One would hardly expect Asia to contribute a woman to the efforts of the League of Nations, yet one finds a woman's name among secretaries of the delegation from Siam, Mlle. Bidah Kosha.

UNCLE SAM SAYS—

COMPOSITION OF FOOD.

THIS booklet which is issued by the Office of Experiment Stations contains the chemical analysis of almost all of the American food materials, showing the percentage of refuse, water, protein, fat, carbohydrates, ash and the fuel value per pound. By its use it is possible to judge the nutritive value of almost any food and thus be able to better select the diet to obtain the proper balance. The booklet also contains charts showing the commercial cuts of beef, veal, lamb and pork with their names.

Readers of the Post-Dispatch may obtain a copy of this booklet for the cost of printing by sending 10 cents in coin to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., asking for "Experiment Stations Bulletin 28." Do not inclose stamps.

Dentists say USE BOTH!

One to regain the original whiteness of your teeth

The other to fight decay between teeth and harden the gums

DON'T look back on days when your teeth were white and beautiful. Restore the beauty and keep them white with Sanitol Tooth Paste. Sanitol swiftly clears away yellowish coatings and reveals the natural whiteness underneath.

But complete tooth health depends, too, on clean crevices between teeth.

Tiny particles of food lodge in these crevices, ferment, form acids that start decay. Only a fluid can penetrate the cramped spaces—brush bristles are too large. Why dentists say USE Sanitol Tooth Paste to clean to a gleaming whiteness, makers of the famous Sanitol Tooth Powder and other toilet preparations

Liquid Antiseptic to flush out crevices between teeth, harden your gums, sweeten the breath.

Use Sanitol Liquid Antiseptic to cleanse and purify dangerous crevices.

Sanitol Tooth Paste is one-third glycerine and one-half dental chalk. First the glycerine softens film. Then the finely pulverized dental chalk clears the film off the enamel and leaves it glistening white. Sanitol Tooth Paste is a pure white, creamy treat for the mouth—pep-perminty, fresh, and fragrant!

Use both for complete mouth cleanliness and the bracing, vigorous Sanitol after-feel.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 249—The Two Heaps.

THE performer places a pack of cards on the table and asks that it be cut into two piles. He glances at the top card of one heap, and immediately names the top card of the other. The pack is squared up again and the trick repeated. The performer previously notes the top card of the pack. When the pack is cut he takes the bottom heap and, looking at the upmost card, names the card which he knows is at the top of the upper pile. When he squares up the pack he places his heap on top, and as he has just looked at its top card he is able to repeat the trick exactly as before.

MAXIMS OF A MODERN MAID

By MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

A BACHELOR'S idea of being "true to the memory of the woman he loved" is to think of her at least once a year—and to think of somebody else the rest of the time.

The clever woman makes a point of praising all the friends of her own sex who "don't count," and so gains such a reputation for magnanimity that her sly scratches at her real rivals are taken at face value.

When a sentimentalist is beginning to forget just how thrilling a sin was he confesses it to some woman and thus recharges the battery of his sensations.

The average married woman has a single track heart, but a married man frequently switches his love from the main line to a branch and back again—nor is it always the same branch.

"Women," says man, "don't know what truth is." But when they begin to discover even the truth about him he gets so angry that they may well be discouraged from pursuing their investigations further.

The more movingly a novelist depicts his hero as, for the sake of his grand passion, flying from home and career, the more stichily, does said novelist himself adhere to both, while he conducts his little affairs, like every sensible man, around the corner.

"What fine Bread!"

Nowhere in all America could your guest find bread with a flavor and goodness to surpass this—real home-made bread, baked with Valier's Enterprise Flour!

Enterprise is milled by our special slow process from only the creamy-white centers of specially-selected, hard winter wheat. Its high quality never varies. Its strength is concentrated.

Such fine flour must cost a little more. But it goes further and produces better, surer baking. When next you order from your grocer—ask for Enterprise.

GREAT SCOTT!

THE Giants have no pitching staff.
Great Scott!
It is to hold your sides and laugh.
Great Scott!
Jack Scott, decrepit, sore and lame
Could only pitch a four-hit game.
And that's the reason we exclaim,
Great Scott!

They said that he was down and out.
Great Scott!
They claimed he couldn't go the route.
Great Scott!
The late lamented Brave and Red
Had nothing but his glove and head.
His arm was absolutely dead.
Great Scott!

He got the Yankees one by one.
Great Scott!
They didn't get a single run.
Great Scott!
And as the Yankee works he shelled
The plaudits of the rooters swelled
And everybody stood and yelled.
Great Scott!

BED TIME.

When Whitley Witt went to sleep
In the third inning he must have thought that the game had been called on account of darkness.

The Giants seem to have it on the Yanks in pitching, batting, fielding and base running. Outside of that there is little to choose between the two teams.

TOO TRUE.

THE justly-famous King of Swat
The ball no longer stings:
It seems to be that this is not
A banner year for Kings.

THE LIFE LINE.

Liquor sales on United States

ing bankers in New York a run for their money.

APATHY.

ALTHOUGH the rooters fail to root
For either team to win.
The players do not care a hoot
As long as they kick in.

And while the fans may not en-thus-
At every brilliant play,
The ath-a-letes would have the blues
If they should stay away.

So let the heathen rant and roar
Or sit serene and calm;
The thoughts of iron men galore
Will be sufficient balm.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB.

THE LONG WAIT AT BURLINGTON.

INCLUDED in my list of acquaintances is a gentleman who promotes sporting events. Originally he promoted foot races, later he conducted balloon ascensions and parachute drops at county fairs and carnivals. Still later, keeping abreast of the march of progress, he turned aviator himself and bought an early model airplane with which, in the period when flying was more of a novelty than it is at present, he gave exhibitions aloft.

The members of a Catholic congregation in a suburb of New York City were striving to raise funds for a new rectory. In pursuance of this ambition, they rented an old driving park and gave a fair which lasted for an entire week. For the crowning attraction on the final afternoon my friend was engaged to make a flight.

Now, the weather was lowering and the winds were capricious. Feeling a natural reluctance to trust himself aloft under such circumstances the performer had recourse to an expedient he had employed on similar occasions in other parts of the country. He spared for time in the hope that darkness would come and so save him from taking the risk. He tinkered with his engine. He fiddled with the plane. He unscrewed this bolt and he screwed up that one.

The assembled crowd, which was large, grew impatient over the delay. Finally the parish priest, who was acting as master of ceremonies, felt it incumbent upon himself to urge that the hired entertainer make good on his contract. He approached the aeronaut and to him he said: "My-god, can't you go ahead and give us the exhibition you promised us and, for which we already have paid you in advance? These people have already been waiting more than an hour and a half for you to go up."

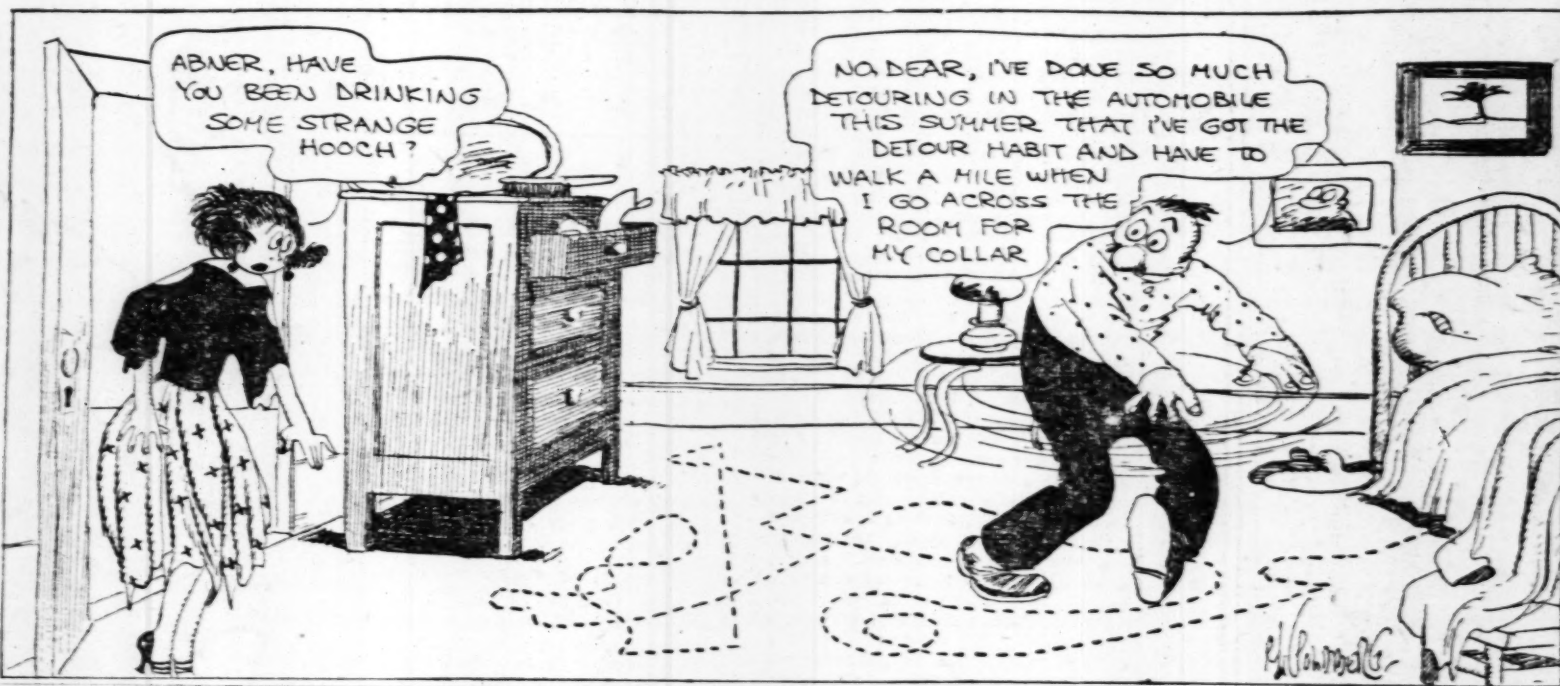

"Father," said my friend, "there's a bunch of folks out in Burlington, Ia., that have been waiting more'n 18 months for me to go up."
